San Rafael Merchants Told: 'Wake Up' Now

By WAT TAKESHITA

San Rafael downtown merchants and property owners last night sounded an urgent call-to-arms to meet the challenge of shopping centers that are sprouting in outlying areas.

A panel of speakers, including Mayor David Height of Palo Alto, stressed repeatedly that the time for action is now, and the threat of competition is already here.

The discussion was greeted with enthusiastic applause from about 70 citizens who met in San Rafael High School auditorium.

Moderator Irving Chapman announced formation of a joint owners-tenants advisory council of 12 men and women who will work with the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and city officials to revitalize the downtown area.

The first meeting of the advisory council is set tentatively for May 24. Time and place will be announced later, said Chapman.

The advisory council is composed of six each from the property owners and tenants groups. Property owners are Albert Tognoli, Sigfried Herzog, Harry Albert, J. B. Rice, Mrs. George Cheda, and Joe Petersen. Representing the merchants are George Lawrence of Lachman Brothers, Kenneth McKenzie of Children's Bootery, Robert T. Gray of PayLess Drugs, Helen Gray of Modern Eve, Myron Zwang of Sarrae's, and Francis J. Fogarty of J. C. Penney Co.

MARIN 'MOTHER OF YEAR' WITH 8 GOOD REASONS

A Marin woman who 25 years ago reigned as "Queen of San Francisco" was announced today as Marin "Mother of the Year."

"The thrill I get from this new title is greater than from the earlier one," said Mrs. Pauline Brady of 32 Diego Drive, Terra Linda, chosen by radio station KTIM after nominations from listeners.

The many nominees were interviewed by Independent-Journal women's editor Florence Donnelly and by Hugh Turner, station manager.

Of Mrs. Brady, mother of eight children, Turner said:

"The warmth of her home life was a great factor in our final selection. Mrs. Brady is a marvelous symbol of motherhood."

Both Mrs. Brady and her husband, Charles J. Brady, an auditor in San Rafael for the State Department of Employment, were San Francisco-born. They have lived in Marin County for 15 years.

They moved to Terra Linda a year ago after previous residence in San Anselmo.

Mrs. Brady explained that her honor as "Queen of San Francisco" 10 years before coming to Marin County was consequence of a contest staged in connection with the opening of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The children range in age from 19 down to four years, starting with Charles Jr. who is a sophomore at University of San Francisco. Next come 17-year-old twins, Connie and Paul, about to graduate from Marin Catholic High School. Billy, 15, is a sophomore at the same school.

Jo Ellen, 13, is graduating from St. Raphael's School. Ten-year-old Joan and 6-year-old Nancy are at the Santa Margarita School in Terra Linda, and Marion, 4, will be a late starter because her birthday is a few days off the school entry time limit date.

Turner found that Mrs. Brady kept both home and children immaculate and that the

Contractor Group Calls For Shutdown In Building Strike

Affects $3.5 Billion In Construction Jobs

Building contractors today hit back at striking laborers by shutting down construction in 46 northern California counties.

The retaliatory move by the Associated General Contractors would lockout some 120,000 building trades employees, about 84,000 of them in the five basic trades.

Construction by association members totals 3.5 billion dollars annually.

The lockout was effective immediately. Word of the lockout was given in advance of a news conference called by the contractor groups.

Expected to follow the lead of the contractors was the Northern California Homebuilders Assn. who were scheduled to meet this afternoon.

Up to noon today, only about 20 per cent of construction work in the northern part of the state was effected. The shut down will cut off a daily payroll of about three million dollars.

NOT UNEXPECTED

The lockout by the contractors was not unexpected. Several times since the laborers walked off their jobs and set up picket lines on May 2, the employers association has threatened the shutdown.

The strike by the laborers came within 48 hours after union contracts expired and negotiators from each side had failed to come to terms on renewal after six weeks of talks.

Contracts of carpenters, cement finishers and construction teamsters expired at the same time, but negotiations between the other three unions and the contractors have continued.

PICKET LINES

Laborers' picket lines, however, were respected by other crafts, and some 12,000 workers on jobs costing 375 million dollars were idle on the ninth day of the strike yesterday. The strike hit 46 northern California counties.

Six major jobs in Marin, including the Civic Center and two Safeway stores, have remained shut down since the strike was called. Officials of the Hodcarriers and Common Laborers Local 291 have signed up "more than 25" of Marin's some 200 independent contract-

Support For Arches Fades Quietly Away

Traffic control arches across the Golden Gate Bridge subsided quietly into the background today.

Daniel L. Del Carlo, chairman of the bridge building and operating committee, reported to the full board of directors that "several persons" spoke in protest at yesterday's lively committee meeting about the arches. (Thirty-three of the crowd of 60 actually took the floor in opposition.)

Only other comments, as the arches were "held in committee," came from Marin's two directors. President Matt A. Graham recalled a March 30 statement he made favoring the arches. Now, he declared, he wants "to say that if there is another way to handle traffic faster across the bridge, I'm for it."

Director Leland S. Murphy declared the real problem was in approach roads and arches "don't do the job" until the approaches are bettered.

The directors heard a report from General Manager James Adam that the Marin approach widening project is now 75 per

TERRA LINDA, MARINWOOD

Two Residential Areas Urged To Combine, Annex

Terra Linda and Marinwood could combine into one new incorporated city without increasing taxes, an expert declared last night.

On the other hand, they could reduce taxes by annexing to San Rafael.

And the two communities need "some future goal and common feeling of identity" if they are to go together in incorporation.

The advice came from William R. Zion of Lafayette, municipal government consultant hired by the Terra Linda and Marinwood Community Services Districts to make a study of what direction future government of the two communities should take. He presented a preliminary report at a meeting at Mary E. Silveira School in Marinwood, attended by about 50 residents.

"Incorporation should be possible with no tax rate increase," Zion reported. "The total city rate should be $1 or less and will include a continuation of the present park and recreation plans and programs. If the area does not incorporate, the possibility of switching the San Rafael territory immediately east and west of Terra Linda to the new city should be considered."

If the areas were annexed to San Rafael, Zion reported: "Annexation would provide the area with a normal set of city services . . . and join it to an established large city with a strong tax base.

"The city tax rate of 96 cents would replace the existing county library rate (14 cents), the CSD rates . . . and probably the Terra Linda Recreation District rate," he said, although nothing that the recreation district would not be automatically dissolved.

"Hence in Marinwood annexation means a tax reduction of 18 cents, and in Terra Linda probably 25 cents," Zion reported.

Also, "fire insurance costs to the homeowner would be reduced in both areas up to $7 annually."

How Marinwood and Terra Linda recreation programs would be carried out under city administration "has not been determined," said Zion.

Annexation of Marinwood to Novato would be unlikely, according to Zion's report, because of a "new city providing limited services some distance away." He pointed out Novato's parks and recreation budget is limited by comparison to Terra Linda and Marinwood.

Police protection would be one of the chief advantages of incorporation, Zion said. He suggested a five-man police force.

His report also shows a $2,825 annual reduction in street lighting due to incorporation and a possible eventual saving annually of $10,000 for fire protection, compared to present CSD services.

But Zion sees little hope of expanding the "somewhat narrow 'bedroom' tax base" if incorporation were the solution, except for the small commercial and industrial potential along Highway 101 east of Marinwood.

He said the economic and geographic unity of Terra Linda and Marinwood "is not enough alone."

"Incorporation should not be the result of fear of annexation," Zion told the CSD boards and about 50 residents who attended the meeting in Mary Silveira School in Marinwood.

"It's very important that there should be feelings of common identity and a future goal as a city," he concluded.

Michael J. Franzblau, Terra Linda CSD board chairman, said there's a "tremendous in-

Transit Board Reacts With Loud 'No' To Marin's Bid For Payment

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors said "no" in a loud voice yesterday to Marin County's request to withdraw from the district, taking its proportion of the district's unexpended half million dollar bank account with it.

A legal principle faced the transit directors—and the fear they might have to pay something out of their own pockets.

Marin County's board of supervisors presented the transit directors with a formal resolution of withdrawal, but it was conditioned on repayment to Marin of its proportionate share of a $523,351 surplus in the district's budget carryover for next year.

The huge carryover, more than five-eighths of next year's proposed budget, would make it possible for the transit district to assess a six-tenths of a cent per $100 assessed valuation as the tax rate next year, compared to 2 cents this year.

Marin's percentage share of the surplus, based on assessed valuation, would be about $34,000.

Wallace L. Kaapcke, legal adviser to the district, told the directors the "district cannot accept this resolution and cannot lawfully make the requested payment."

He said Marin County "does not have any lawful interest in the money," that it was not collected from the county but from the residents of the transit district, that there is no provision under which such a payment could be made by the district, and that there are specific provisions in the rapid

JFK Moves To Improve Business Relations With Tax Write-Offs

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The Kennedy administration made a major move toward better relations with business by announcing liberalization of tax depreciation write-offs will be ordered soon.

Unofficial estimates set the 1962 tax savings at about 1.25 billion dollars for big and little businessmen.

The announcement was made at the Business Council, an organization of major industrialists headed by Chairman Roger M. Blough of U.S. Steel Corp., President John F. Kennedy's chief antagonist in the April steel price tussle.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon sent the word that the revision is now in its final stages. He said the write-offs will become effective late next month or in July at the latest.

Undersecretary Henry H. Fowler read Dillon's speech at the closed-door session.

Fowler told the 100 assembled corporation heads:

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Don't Like Integrated Program

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Two sons of excommunicated Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr. walked out of a Roman Catholic high school concert yesterday because the program was racially integrated.

Mrs. Gaillot said her sons, Kenneth, 16, and Donald, 14, asked to be excused from their bands after they learned the band day program was integrated.

Ambassador Dean Flying Home

GENEVA (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean flew to the United States today to make a personal report to President John F. Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the progress of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Dean took a five-day break from the conference, leaving his deputy, Charles C. Stelle, to continue the complicated negotiations on the first stage of a general disarmament treaty and a nuclear test ban.

He will attend the opening of the John Foster Dulles library of diplomatic history at Princeton University Tuesday, and is due back here Wednesday.

Nikita Disputes Moon Shot

PASADENA (AP)—There was no one there to watch, early April 26, when U.S. spacecraft Ranger 4 came cruising around the edge of a bright half moon.

American scientists said it fell, there on the moon's hidden back side, pulled into the lunar crust by gravity. And no one disputed them—until Thursday.

Then Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared that no U.S. rocket had hit the moon.

He offered no scientific facts to back up his statement—just the taunting comment that the Soviet marker on the moon is getting lonesome, up there, waiting for an American companion.

"Nonsense," replied scientists at Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory. "We hit the moon," they said.

Tour For Malraux

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, recovered from a slight cold, today took French Minister of Culture Andre Malraux on a tour of the national art gallery here.

Malraux, one of France's foremost literary figures, will be honored at a White House dinner tonight.

Success For Students

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today told a group of high school students that, as Californians, their chances of achieving success "are better than those of any other students in the world."

Brown told juniors and seniors at South San Francisco High School that California's education budget exceeded the entire budgets of 43 other states.

Brown also cited increased aid to youth in finding jobs, but he warned the students, "stay in school as long as you can; learn everything you can."

Four Wives At 24

MARTINEZ (UPI) — If experience counted 24-year-old Clinton Cleo Boyd could qualify as some sort of expert on marital relations.

Boyd admitted to Contra Costa County sheriffs deputies yesterday he has been married four times without benefit of divorce. He is being charged with bigamy and failure to support his seven children.

Suit Resolved

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Actress-dancer Ann Miller yesterday resolved her seven-million-dollar separate maintenance suit against millionaire oilman Arthur Cameron for an undisclosed amount which she described as "more than fair."

At the same time, the couple's purported Mexican marriage was annulled by the court.

Strike Call Ignored

MADRID (UPI)—Madrid workers today appeared to be ignoring a call for a general strike to support the walkout of more than 60,000 miners and industrial workers in northern Spain.

Leaflets said to be circulated by the Communists appeared in Madrid the past two days urging the general strike. But by early morning today, buses were running on schedule, telephones and public utilities were functioning normally, and other services appeared unaffected.

Lisbon Crackdown

LISBON (UPI) — Portuguese police cracked down on demonstrations at Lisbon University today by seizing more than 1,000 students and members of their families, including 85 who had staged a hunger strike in the university canteen.

Police moved onto the campus at dawn after the university senate said it could not maintain discipline and appealed for government intervention.

The action was carried out without violence and the campus was quiet after the demonstrators had been taken away.

The 85 strikers were protesting government interference in academic life.

Nine Die In Blast

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A chemical plant exploded with devastating force near downtown Toledo yesterday, killing at least nine persons and spewing wreckage over a five-block area.

The explosion and subsequent fire injured 41 persons and left one employee of the Maumee Chemical Co. unaccounted for. Firemen discovered five of the dead as they dug through the charred debris of the three-story plant last night.

Great clouds of multicolored smoke rolled over the city as chemicals in the plant burned.

Streets were littered with glass from windows shattered by the force of the explosion.

BEHIND IN MARKET—Pete Harpster, 12, of Tulsa, Okla., checks the activity of one of his stocks with Tulsa broker Lyle W. Turner. Pete, who has been investing since he was 8 years old, is more than $9 behind on his $336 portfolio. He blames President John F. Kennedy's action in the steel crisis for the tumbling prices. 'KENNEDY'S TO BLAME'

Veteran Stockholder At 12, He Views Market Decline

By BOB HARING

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Like many other stockholders, Pete Harpster is behind in a falling market. But Pete—who's only 12—figures to hold on for a recovery.

Pete has been trading in stocks since he was eight years old. His parents got him started with five shares of El Paso Natural Gas Co. Now they let him trade as he wishes—with the advice of his broker.

What does he think is behind the stock market decline, which sent prices tumbling again yesterday and dropped the Dow-Jones averages by 7.47?

"President John F. Kennedy," he replied.

Pete explained he thinks President Kennedy frightened investors by forcing the steel industry to rescind its recent price increase. Stockholders are selling out as a result, he said.

Pete hasn't sold and doesn't plan to, although he's behind more than $9 on his $336 portfolio. "I'm waiting for a recovery," he said.

He is confident of an eventual recovery, but cautious about forecasting when. Is now a good time to buy, then? "I'd wait for a little while," Pete said. "It should go down further."

Pete's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harpster, figure his stock trading has been useful.

"He learns about industry, government, money — stocks are an opening to a number of things," his mother said. "He can't play with toys forever."

Pete scans reports which his father, an accountant, brings home for him, but trading is strictly up to the sixth grader.

Pete's worst loss has been a 3¾-a-share fall in a space stock. A recent purchase of a gas and electric company bolstered his overall position, though.

"It's what's keeping me alive," he said.

BRITAIN'S TORIES TAKE WALLOPING IN ELECTION

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan's government was shaken today as Liberals and Laborites walloped the Conservatives in local elections that often reflect the national political trend.

The Conservatives conceded a setback as the opposition seized control of municipal councils in 36 towns. The Tories lost a net of 516 seats in 428 boroughs in England and Wales.

The campaign was fought almost entirely on domestic issues—particularly the Macmillan government's new restraints on wages and dividends and the uncertainties over Britain's prospective entry into the Common Market.

The swing against the Conservatives in voting yesterday almost wiped out the gain of 700 seats the Tories picked up in local elections over the last three years.

The Laborite Daily Mirror called it "disaster for the Tories." The Conservative Daily Mail took a slightly softer line: "Tories totter."

Reds Chase Royal Laos Force From Airstrip Into Thailand

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Royal Laotian Army forces blew up the airstrip at Ban Houei Sai early today and fled across the border into Thailand in the face of a relentless Communist drive south from Nam Tha.

Destruction of the airstrip to prevent its use by advancing pro-Communists also cut off the last escape route from the town that sits on the Mekong River on the border with Thailand.

More than 1,000 weary royalist troops were jammed into Ban Houei Sai on their retreat from the Nam Tha area, heavily pressed by Communist forces who broke the cease-fire last week and routed the American-trained government units.

McNamara At Village Near Copter Incident

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert McNamara today visited a fortified village in Communist-infested territory near the place where two U.S. helicopters were shot down Wednesday.

He also traveled by helicopter but there were no incidents.

McNamara's trip to Umin Ha, one of the chain of villages South Viet Nam has fortified against the rebels, was part of his intensive inspection tour of the Communist-threatened nation.

Umin Ha is about 170 miles south of Saigon near the town of Camau. The area has been dominated by the Communists for the past 10 years.

McNamara made the trip to Camau and back in an Air Force C-123 transport. He was airlifted to Umin Ha by a U.S. Marine Corps helicopter.

Rebels fired on three Marine helicopters Wednesday as they flew support missions in the Mekong Delta area. One of the downed planes was recovered by Vietnamese troops. No crew members were hit, although one was reported cut by flying glass.

Runaway Youth Surrenders Meekly

An elusive San Rafael youth, who pulled a gun on a deputy sheriff in the Alto hills last Sunday, then dodged flying bullets to escape into the bushes, surrendered meekly at his home last night.

San Rafael police, acting on an anonymous tip, nabbed fleet-footed Ronald Harold Husby, 19, of 5 Roger Court about 8 p.m.

Nine officers surrounded the house. Sgt. Carl Selby and Officer Charles Hickey entered through the front door and found Husby hiding under some clothing against a wall. One foot was sticking out from under the clothes.

Husby told police he had lost his pistol, after running from Deputy Sheriff Ernest Nielsen in the Alto hills Sunday afternoon. One of Nielsen's bullets had grazed Husby's hip pocket, drilling a hole through the pocket and his wallet. Husby was not hit.

The youth is being held in lieu of $6,375 bail. He was to be arraigned this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, car theft, and violation of probation.

Last September, he was convicted of petty theft from a San Rafael home, then violated probation by taping a cash register at a San Anselmo service station where he worked. He turned over his car to the bail bondsman, who put up his bail, then stole that car back and jumped bail.

Burglary Trial Jury Deadlocked

A jury of nine women and three men deliberated for six hours yesterday but failed to agree on whether two men were guilty of burglary of Stinson Beach State Park ranger station on Feb. 22.

Richard Grundhauser, 26, of 9 Ross Street, San Rafael, and Robert Peter Sundberg, 19, of Railroad Avenue, Woodacre, are charged with breaking in and stealing a roll of stamps, some .22 caliber bullets, and a first aid kit.

Deputy Public Defender Jerome Durham defended the two before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino, prosecutor, said he does not think the district attorney will seek a new trial. The judge continued the case until May 21 for re-setting.

Grundhauser's brother, Leroy Patrick Grundhauser, 23, testified for the defense, taking the entire blame himself. He said the other two were not involved in the theft at all.

Leroy Grundhauser has already pleaded guilty to the break-in.

Dead Dogs, Cats Are Thrown Away

Mill Valleyans should quit throwing dead cats and dogs in sidewalk waste cans, Police Chief Dan Terzich warned today.

Benny Ratto, partner in Mill Valley Garbage Co., complained yesterday that people are "throwing" dead dogs and cats into waste cans on the sidewalks."

Dead animals should be taken to the Marin County Humane Society at 402 Third Street, San Rafael, who will cremate them—at no cost to the owner, said Chief Terzich.

Bond Issue Gets College Backing

College of Marin trustees last night gave public endorsement to a 270-million-dollar state construction program bond issue which will be on the June 5 state primary ballot.

College of Marin, if the huge bond issue is successful, would receive $112,000 over a two-year period.

The money received by the college would go toward its expansion program.

as a whole will, indeed, be meaningful to American industry and to the entire American economy.

"Can anyone any longer doubt this?"

The Treasury official gave no actual figures and made no estimate of the amount industry would save—and the Treasury would lose—by shortening the periods in which companies can write off the cost of new machinery and equipment.

But, he said the bigger annual deductions it will permit will take effect in this 1962 tax year, will be usable as a matter of right by all taxpayers, and will apply to machines and equipment already in use as well as to those bought subsequently.

Annual Bolinas Cleanup Planned

Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department members announced last night that the annual cleanup will be held in Bolinas July 1.

Starting at 9 a.m., residents will clean up grass and brush around their properties.

The cleanup session will be followed by a luncheon served by volunteer firemen's wives at the community center.

No casualties were reported immediately in the quake area which covered a large part of southern Mexico.

Bids Opened On Tiburon Highway Job

A $555,929.90 bid by the San Rafael contracting firm of Brown-Ely Co. was low of two on the long-delayed Tiburon Highway four-lane project opened yesterday by the State Division of Highways in Sacramento.

Charles L. Harney of San Francisco was the other bidder.

The project includes grading and paving to change the present two-lane road to four-lane divided standards for a mile from the Alto intersection east to four-tenths of a mile east of Strawberry Drive.

Months of delay resulted from dispute over construction of a drainage ditch in the area but this was recently compromised, with provision of the covered construction desired by local residents.

terest in the feasibility of incorporation in Terra Linda." He said he expects a series of public meetings to be held on the question after Zion's full report is filed in June.

"We will await the final report and probably circulate the necessary petitions for an incorporation election sometime in September," Franzblau declared.

But Howard Council, Marinwood CSD chairman, said: "I think the people in our area are pretty much on the fence. We're glad we asked for the study, and maybe incorporation would give us more professional services.

"My philosophy of CSD government is different from Franzblau's. He thinks we should get into everything, and I think we have limited duties."

Asked what the City of San Rafael would prefer the two northern communities to do, City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said:

"We couldn't care less . . . If they want to incorporate, I wish them lots of luck."

Tonight's Concert Director, Site Told

The Indepent-Journal incorrectly reported in yesterday's paper that the Workshop for Strings concert tonight at 8 o"clock would be held in the San Rafael High School auditorium. It will be held in the practice room at the school.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stetson, chairman of the group, said Robert Jacobson will direct the group, not Hugo Rinaldi, as reported.

Painters Picketing At Edgewater Inn

A Painters Union picket patrolled in front of the Edgewater Inn today.

Arthur Johnson Jr. of Painters Union Local 291 of San Rafael said he was picketing because of hiring of a non-union painter. The union said painting is being done by William B. Georgia of Santa Rosa, who was hired last week by James Stockman, the Edgewater Inn owner, as a maintenance man.

Mrs. Brady was interviewed by Turner over KTIM at 12:30 p.m. today and she is receiving gifts. Larkspur florist Katherine Eubanks, co-sponsor of the contest, is making floral presentations to all of the mothers.

Crash Into Tree, Two Hospitalized

An early morning automobile crash into a bay tree on Meadowsweet Drive in Corte Madera today put a driver and his woman passenger in Marin General Hospital where both were in only fair condition.

Injured were Harry Lee Martin Jr., 29, 940 Meadowsweet Drive, a geologist, the driver whose scalp was cut, and his passenger Katherine Smith, 25, of 557 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, who suffered a broken left hand, and cuts of right leg and nose and right ear.

Martin was driving a new Porsche sports car and swung too wide on a sharp left-hand turn, the California Highway Patrol reported.

TRANSIT

transit act precluding the payment.

He warned the county that if it has not withdrawn by the time the transit board levies the district tax July 1, property owners of Marin also will have next year's tax levied against them.

President Adrien Falk added that if Marin remains in the district and does not approve a three-county transit system plan on which the district is working, a proposed bond issue, could not go on the November ballot.

Marin Directors T. J. De Lasaux and M. J. Lamperti argued that it was wrong to take Marin County money and apply it to future expenditures of a district of which Marin was not a part.

"In principle, it's wrong," De Lasaux declared. "Unexpended money should revert back to the people as it does when the district dissolves."

The vote was 9 to 2 against accepting the Marin supervisors' resolution, and 10 to 1 for rejecting it. Lamperti voted with the majority on the second vote.

Then the directors took their first look at the budget for the next fiscal year. It's total, $831,317, is more than $300,000 less than this year's. However, Finance Chairman Tom Gray pointed out this budget is "very tentative" until the Marin County situation is settled.

Marin County Supervisor William D. Fusselman said today that he intends to move the original simple withdrawal resolution of last week when the board meets next Tuesday, to include rescinding of the conditional resolution passed against his opposition last Tuesday.

cent complete and is due to be finished by July 15. The west lane will be closed for 50 days starting about June 4 to permit removal of the retaining wall and replacing it further to the left, he said.

A proposal that the contractor reduce this closed period to 30 days by overtime work was rejected because of a $1,500 per day extra cost and a 60-day extension of the contract.

The board authorized purchase of 100 rubber traffic dividing devices at a cost of $1,810 to direct four lanes of traffic in the rush direction. The new dividers will be yellow rubber tubes, three and three-quarter inches in diameter and standing two and three-quarter feet high on the traffic line.

They will reach from the toll plaza to the San Francisco tower and will be used to route traffic around the Marin viaduct construction.

OBITUARIES

Ex-Editor Celeste G. Murphy Dies

Death came yesterday to Celeste G. Murphy, 79, onetime editor of the San Rafael Independent.

Mrs. Murphy, whose father, H. H. Granice, owned the Independent from 1900 to 1903, died in a Sonoma hospital after an illness of more than a year. A resident of Sonoma most of her life, her home was in the historic barracks building on the Sonoma town square once occupied by the troops of Gen. Mariano G. Vallejo.

She leaves her husband, Walter L. Murphy, with whom she owned and edited the Sonoma Index-Tribune; and a sister, Mrs. Julie G. Sprague of Redwood City.

A native of Santa Clara, Mrs. Murphy was graduated from University of California in 1901, immediately taking over the reins of the Independent, which she edited until it was sold in 1903. It was under Miss Granice's editorship that the Independent grew from a weekly to a daily.

In addition to editing, the young newspaperwoman covered the courthouse, police and sheriff's "beats," sold advertising and handled the business affairs of the paper. Two printers completed her staff, the trio working from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

She was later Marin County correspondent on the prison beat for the San Francisco Bulletin.

She and her husband took over the Index-Tribune from her father and operated the Sonoma paper until they both retired in 1949. Even though retired, she took an active interest in the paper until her illness of a year ago. The paper is now owned and edited by her nephew, Robert W. Lynch.

'SLOW DOWN, DEAR, PATROL CAR'

These two cars parked along Highway 50 near Placerville may look like Highway patrol cars, but they aren't. One isn't even a car. Harvey W. West Jr., Placerville lumberman, painted two cars, made a life-sized picture of another, and placed them on his property "to slow down speeders." He even put dummies in the two real cars. West says the idea works well, and a patrol officer says he isn't breaking any laws. (AP Wirephotos)

Senate Hopes Early Estes Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators said today they hope to launch within a month their public hearings on Texas financier Billie Sol Estes and his dealings with government officials.

The wide scale inquiry by the Senate Investigations subcommittee is laden with potential political dynamite.

The subcommittee has more than a dozen agents in the field now trying to sift fact from fiction in tracing Estes' financial manipulations. Chairman John L. McClellan (D Ark.) maintained silence on details of what they are finding.

The subcommittee seeks to learn whether influence in Washington helped Estes to run up a fortune under the government's farm program.

A Texas court of inquiry has turned up evidence that Estes profited hugely on government grain storage contracts, some unusual manipulations of cotton acreage allotments, fertilizer sales and other areas of the program designed to bolster the agricultural industry.

A federal grand jury indicted Estes for fraud in connection with chattel mortgages he was charged with selling on nonexistent fertilizer tanks. The department has canceled his 1961 marketing allotments and levied $554,162 in marketing penalties against him for alleged illegal dealings in cotton acreage allotments.

The names of several Congress members and officials of the Agriculture and Labor departments have bobbed up publicly in the course of the various investigations of Estes.

Four grand juries in Texas are investigating him now, and the House subcommittee on interdepartmental relations said it may start an investigation next week. Its authority is far more restricted than is McClellan's group.

McClellan announced yesterday that while aides are investigating Estes, the subcommittee will resume Tuesday its interrupted hearings on alleged pyramiding of profits on government contracts for the design and manufacture of missiles.

Famed Greenlease Kidnap Figure Dies

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Louis Shoulders, a former police lieutenant who won fame and then disgrace in the Bobby Greenlease kidnap case, died today of an apparent heart attack.

Shoulders was 61 years old. He had lived in obscurity ever since his release from a two-year prison term on charges of not telling what he knew about more than half of $600,000 in ransom money.

In 1953, Shoulders arrested Carl Austin Hall, one of the two kidnapers of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease of Kansas City.

Hall and his mistress, Bonnie Jean Heady, abducted the boy from his school and demanded $600,000 ransom from the father, a wealthy Kansas City auto dealer.

Greenlease paid the money, but never saw his son again. Hall and Mrs. Heady killed the boy. Shoulders arrested Hall while the killer was on an alcoholic binge in St. Louis.

Hall claimed he had almost all of the $600,000 with him in a suitcase when captured. When the money was counted, there was only $300,000.

Shoulders never disclosed what had happened from the time he got his first tip on Hall's whereabouts and the arrest four hours later. The missing ransom money was never recovered.

Shoulders was convicted of perjury, charged with refusing to reveal what he knew of the missing money, and sent to prison.

The Drake Diplomats will meet at the home of Mrs. Adina Robinson, home economics instructor at Drake, for breakfast May 26, in honor of our exchange students, Sergio Peccorelli, Jeanne Bui, Jill Hoffman, and John Reznor. Bicycling or hiking around the Tiburon Peninsula is planned before or after breakfast.

About eight of every 10 one-family homes built in 1962 will be of single-story style, according to housing experts of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.

Planning Held Key To Peace In America

The greatest obstacle to disarmament in the United States is America's aversion to planning, and peace-seeking persons should tackle this on the local and state levels, People for Peace were told last night.

Dr. Frances Herring, philosophy professor now doing research at University of California, addressed the third in a series of talks on disarmament at Terra Linda Community Center.

She said efforts toward disarmament by Russia and the United States now are blocked by the U.S. fear of disarmament throwing her economy out of gear.

She urged state conferences to plan how to get industries and employees now engaged in arms manufacture switched to peacetime pursuits.

The next disarmament talk scheduled by People for Peace will be at 8 p.m. next Thursday by Bennett Skewes-Cox, professor of international relations at San Francisco State College.

Hub Chamber Votes Yule Decorations

Decision to spend $1,490 for Christmas decorations for the Hub City was made yesterday by the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce directors.

They voted to make the purchases before June 1 to take advantage of current discounts.

NEW JUNIOR COLLEGES TAX ASKED

HAYWARD (AP) — A plan to support California junior colleges with a statewide tax of 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation was placed before the State Board of Education here yesterday by Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction.

The tax would be collected by the state and reapportioned to junior college districts.

Simpson said the proposed tax would replace local junior college tuition taxes in areas with such schools and would be a new levy in areas which do not have junior colleges. He said the plan would guarantee the junior colleges $600 per student per year.

Young Driver Hurt In Crash

A youthful Petaluma driver suffered head injuries when his car left Shoreline Highway a half mile south of Tomales last night.

Richard E. Adams, 16, who attends Tomales High School, was southbound at 7:30 p.m. when his car skidded on the highway shoulder, plunged off the embankment and overturned after tearing out 60 feet of fence from the Cerini Ranch.

Three passenger, none from Marin County were uninjured. Young Adams was in satisfactory condition today at Petaluma General Hospital.

Mill Valley Colonel Retires; Honored

H. G. KLEIKAMP
Retires with honor

Lt. Col. Herman G. Kleikamp of 75 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal on his retirement at Fort Baker after more than 20 years service.

The award, in recognition of outstanding service as staff judge advocate, was presented by Maj. Gen. M. M. Magee, commander of the Sixth Region of the Army Air Defense Command.

Colonel Kleikamp was born in Germany and came to the United States when he was 19. He received his law degree from Fordham University in 1940 and practiced law in New York until he was inducted into the Army in 1942.

He is a member of the American and Federal Bar Assns. and plans to return to law practice after a short vacation.

Besides serving as legal officer, he commanded a tank company and was an instructor in tank gunnery. In World War II he served as a military intelligence officer in Europe. In 1948 he transferred to the Judge Advocate General Corps and remained with it until his retirement.

Kleikamp is a past president of the San Francisco chapter of the Reserve Officers Assn. and a past commander of the Heroes of '76, Frankfurt chapter, Germany.

Unified Tiburon District Gains Backing At Informational Meeting

The second in a series of informational meetings on unification of the Tiburon Peninsula into a single school district drew about 80 people to San Clemente School in Corte Madera last night.

Audience reaction seemed to indicate feeling that the plan, proposed by the Reed Union School District study committee on unification, has merit financially and educationally, reported Reed Supt. Edward C. Pino.

Speakers said a single school district would result in savings by elminating duplication of services and personnel now required for two districts.

The proposed district would benefit financially because its assessed valuation is growing more rapidly than student population, they said.

Speakers were Dr. C. Earl Miller, assistant professor of education, San Francisco State College; Mrs. Joseph B. Wallace, representing the county committee on school district organization; Richard J. MacLaury, Reed trustee, and Pino.

The next meeting will be held at the Reed school next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Physicist Who Hired Negro Is Put Under Observation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Harvey J. Brudner, the New Jersey physicist who hired the first Negro sent north by the New Orleans Citizens Council, was held today in District of Columbia Hospital for mental observation.

Brudner was admitted to the hospital Tuesday after he jumped in a policeman's car and demanded to see the president. According to secret service agent Robert Bouck, Brudner told White House guards, "I am the most informed scientist in the United States. I can save the world."

Medical developments, Inc., the Ft. Lee, N.J., firm of which Brudner is president, recently hired Louis Boyd as a $100-a-week handyman.

Boyd and his wife and eight children were the first Negroes to accept the New Orleans Citizens Council's offer of a bus ticket and $5 to leave the Louisiana city and go north.

Kent Will Try To Nail Down JFK For Marin Civic Center Dedication

An attempt to guarantee President John F. Kennedy's attendance at the Marin County Civic Center dedication will be made next week in Washington by Roger Kent, Democratic State Central Committee chairman.

Kent, whose home is in Kentfield, said today Kennedy has tentative plans to come to Northern California next fall.

Kent will be in Washington Monday to attend a meeting of the postmaster general's advisory committee, of which he is a member. While there he will discuss the proposed visit of the president with White House officials.

Kent met yesterday with members of the joint county and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce civic center dedication committee.

Sewer Assessment District Sought

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors Wednesday night appointed J. Warren Nute of San Rafael as engineer and Wilson, Wallace, Jones and Morton of San Mateo as attorneys to handle preliminary proceedings for formation of a special assessment district in Fairview Park subdivision.

A cost estimate is to be provided by Nute, to be followed by public hearings, Chairman Richard P. Bovaird said.

The board will hold an adjourned meeting next Thursday to discuss distribution of costs on the Peralta line extension.

Dissension Hit Novato Parks Unit

Dissension hit the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission at a special meeting last night, with one member resigning.

Mrs. John A. Machado turned in her resignation. She accused fellow commission members with holding a secret meeting before the Novato city council meeting Tuesday night. Chairman Jack Sparrow promptly denied it.

At the city council meeting, Mrs. Machado asked City Administrator J. Julien Baget if it were true the city had about 50 applications for the job of parks and recreation director. Acting Mayor John Angeloni declared her out of order.

Later commission member Gordon Tandy asked the council if it would keep the applications on file with the possibility that the city council might rescind its action postponing hiring a permanet director until next January 1.

In her resignation addressed to Mayor M. E. Silva, Mrs. Machado wrote:

"Since I will only serve on the commission in the capacity of what is best for the community, I no longer feel I can function in this matter due to incidents that have transpired; therefore, I wish in all fairness to be replaced by a member who will be effective and not 'deadwood,' since Novato needs a seven-member commission as planned, not six working with one being ignored."

The commission last night named a committee to prepare a statement asking the council to reverse its previous action and hire a permanent parks and recreation director no later than Sept. 1 Named to the committee were Mrs. Robert Lagel, Grant Nelson, and Tandy.

The commission set a special meeting on this for next Wednesday at 8 p.m. It will hold its regular meeting on Thursday.

Variance For Hospital Denied By Ross

Variance to permit building of a convalescent hospital partly in Ross and partly on county land was unanimously denied last night by the Ross Town Council.

Application by Aurequy and Mackenzie was vigorously opposed by residents, 23 of whom signed a petition to the council. They contended the proposed 72-bed hospital would hamper flood control. Developers planned to build it across Corte Madera Creek from the Redwood Medical Center, now under construction at 1123 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, near Ross General Hospital and outside the town limits.

Opponents also said the project was a commercial application in an area now zoned single residential. And Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said the project actually was a subdivision matter and thus was presented to the council in the wrong form.

Michael Kaplan was granted approval by a 4-to-1 vote, Jones dissenting, to split the former Grayson property on Lagunitas Road into three lots.

The council approved a summer recreation program and approved directional signs to be installed for the Marin Art and Garden Fair in July.

Henry B. Grandin Jr. wrote the council he thought the police department should have another telephone. Chief Joseph Regoni said he didn't need another phone and didn't recall ever being phoned by Grandin. The matter was referred to Councilman Fredrick S. Allen, chairman of the community protection committee.

Mill Valley Reserve Officers Elect

William Gosser was elected Wednesday as president of the Mill Valley reserve police officers. Charles Bassett was elected vice president; Joseph Penders, secretary, and Robert Laughead, treasurer.

Directors named are Ernest Roberts, Peter Silveira, Edward Reichmuth, Maurice, Angland and John Santos.

Adoption of by-laws was put over to the officers next meeting, for which no date has been set.

COLLEGE APPROVES POLICE TRAINING

A law enforcement program, backed by leading Marin men in police and correctional work, may start next September at College of Marin.

College trustees last night gave approval to such a program after a report from college Vice President Paul Clymer.

The program, which would be for two years to train future police supervisors, was endorsed by Warden Fred R. Dickson of San Quentin Prison, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol, college President Stephen E. Epler said.

Letters of approval were also received from Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford Crittenden.

Another course granted approval by trustees last night is radio announcing and writing which would be conducted as an evening credit course.

Ellsworth R. Briggs, adult school dean, reported the course will start next fall. Instructor will be Stuart Hyde, head of the radio and television department at San Francisco State College.

The College Trustees Also:

1. Approved discontinuing a remedial English course and replacing it with a course in reading, on recommendation of George H. Ball, chairman of the liberal arts division.

2. Approved attendance of Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, at a state athletic committee meeting May 25 in Modesto; Diamond and counselors at terminal students workshops sponsored by University of California May 18 and 19 at San Mateo, and Clymer, Diamond and Harry J. Peiper, chairman of the physical education division, at Golden Valley conference meeting today in Sacramento.

3. Approved five student teachers from San Francisco State College to do their practice teaching at the college this spring. The students are: Bruce Brown, English; Jean Masters, speech; Willard Melton, art; Nicholas Broughton, psychology, and Charles Foster, physics.

4. Granted one year leave of absence to Mrs. Doris Meyer, art instructor, and hired Ernest L. Caillat as full time art instructor at $6,300 salary, to replace her. Caillat has been part-time art instructor at the college.

5. Hired Mary Louise Sullivan as business instructor at $5,900 salary; Mrs. Hazel Torres as instructor in dental assisting at $7,200; Howard Blair as English instructor at $6,000; S. Drummond Wolfe as half-time music instructor at $4,050.

A recent survey of 135 Japanese girls born and reared in the United States showed they were 1.6 inches taller than girls of like age in Japan.

Three Sites For Marine World Told

Three Marin sites — two in San Rafael and one in Corte Madera—were under consideration today for a Marine World.

The sites were inspected yesterday by the project's organizer, Bradford Baruh, on a tour with the special projects committee of the Marin Visitors Bureau headed by Lou Sabella.

Walter J. Brown, bureau director, said the sites would not be disclosed until Baruh had completed comprehensive studies of conditions. These would include salt water content, test borings, depth and currents as well as the sites' relation to main thoroughfares.

The proposed mammoth aquarium was rejected last week by the Mill Valley City Council.

Baruh indicated he was "definitely interested" in one of the San Rafael sites. He said he would make every effort to locate in Marin because of its "climate, beauty and closeness to San Francisco."

Natives of the Bahamas beat the long leaves of the cactus-like sisal plant into hemp, dye it and weave it into highly colored baskets, belts and hats.

New Ross Town Clerk Sworn In

Mrs. John G. Lewis, wife of a retired Navy captain now serving as a consulting engineer, was sworn in last night to be the town clerk for Ross as of June 1.

She will begin serving after the resignation of Carroll A. Snyker takes effect. Motion for her appointment was by Councilman Russell Smith, seconded by Councilman William Bricca.

Mrs. Lewis was born in Ross and lived there all her life except for 17 years of traveling caused by her husband's Navy assignments. To serve in the town position she resigned as a director of the Town of Ross Property Owners Assn.

A Good Idea To Take Mother Out Of Kitchen On Her Day

Nice custom observed by Franchini's Restaurants—Chateau and West End Villa—is the presentation of flowers to all mothers on Mother's Day. Both restaurants featuring the occasion this Sunday.

Which reminds me to suggest the lobster brochette at the Chateau. I suppose someone else serves it somewhere but this is the only place I've found so far.

Probably because the grilling process is a tricky thing—the timing especially. You need almost split second maneuvering to bring it to that just right stage—not charred, not overdone and tough, not underdone, properly marinated. Roy Franchini experimented with this a long time before ever putting it on the menu. Now it's handled to perfection.

Recent addition to the personnel here is mixologist Paul Gottlieb who's equally smooth with his ingredients and service.

FLEUR DE LYS in San Anselmo will be closed for vacation from this coming Monday to Wednesday, May 30. It's open Mother's Day, however—dinners starting at 1 p.m. Prices and menu as usual—no raise.

San Francisco's Fleur de Lys will also close for a similar period, but one day earlier. Both restaurants open again May 31.

SEVERAL LEADING CHEFS of the Bay Area will be guests tonight at an invitation reception at Rickey's Rancho Rafael to pass on executive chef and general manager Jean Joaquin's extensive kitchen remodeling and new menu.

NO MORE chuck wagon-style meals at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon. Max Horowits has announced full table service with complete dinner prices starting from $2.85.

Selections include bratwurst, potroast and potato pancakes, wiener schnitzel, brochettes, steaks and baked Long Island duck. Closed Mondays; dinner dancing Friday and Saturday nights. Special menu Mother's Day from 1 p.m.

NOT THE HIGHEST. Not the lowest, either. Prices of many items at Ondine are in the middle range, with an opportunity to get into deeper water if you want to make a big splash.

Complete dinners start at $3.50 and extend upward in gradual stages. Plenty of good selections under $5. Judging by the general run of food costs

JEAN JOAQUIN
Rickey's Rancho Rafael

these days, the right-hand columns are not so upsetting as you might think—and it's a prestige spot to visit.

Ondine will start its dinner service Mother's Day at 4 p.m.

RIGHT BELOW, the Trident is featuring first appearance on the West Coast by creative jazz musician Lee Konitz with his beautiful lyric alto sax, appearing Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings with the Vince Guaraldi Trio. He's made such a hit so far his engagement should be a lengthy one. No backdrop scenery needed for their act. The view out the windows behind the stage is a feature in itself.

ANOTHER Mother's Day opportunity is La Petite Auberge, San Rafael—opening for dinner at 3 p.m. Prime ribs are on the menu besides the regular French cuisine.

PAT KELLY'S COMBO opens tomorrow night at Nero's during the dinner, dancing and listening hours. Also appearing are the Kobelt Sisters, acrobatic dancers who have some gravity defying stunts to show. They've just completed a tour of the Soviet Union and Far East. The Monday Night Club will be closed May 14.

SUE DUNN is the new piano entertainer at Henry's Ol' Place, San Anselmo, on Friday and Saturday nights. She has a rollicking style with the ballads but can turn on the classics, too.

DUAL ROLE. Christopher's Coffee House, Tiburon, is now baking all its own pastries; has hired a baker and will also sell pies, cakes and rolls. All because everyone has been wanting a bakery on Main Street. Chris Tassos is serving dinners, too—best cuts of meats and specialty dishes. Complete full course dinner $2.95.

KEN KELLY is now serving breakfasts and lunches at Spec McAuliffe's, 813 Fourth Street, San Rafael every day but Sundays.

PEACOCK GAP GOLF and Country Club — Mother's Day dinner this Sunday from 2 to 8 p.m. Mother should enjoy it out here.

Marin Dining And Wining

WINE CORNER

You Shouldn't Feel Cheap About California Wines

Don't feel you are being cheap to order California wines instead of European.

Travelers who have sampled wines the average Frenchman, Portuguese, Spaniard or Italian drink every day say that the American popular-priced wines are substantially better.

On the other hand, some choice foreign wines—virtually custom-made and entailing much labor—aren't often duplicated by American winemakers, though they have their specialties, too.

H. G. Wells, the English author, put it this way:

"You Americans have the loveliest wines in the world, you know, but you don't realize it. You call them domestic and that's enough to start trouble anywhere."

Don't call them domestic. Call them California wines. You can be proud of them.

Appraisal Information Bureau Set For San Geronimo Property Owners

An appraisal information bureau will be open at the Woodacre Improvement Club until 9 o'clock tonight and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow for property owners in San Geronimo Valley.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel announced that his appraisers will be at the improvement club with appraisal records to answer questions and discuss individual appraisals.

During the past week, property owners from Woodacre to Lagunitas received letters from the assessor, informing them of new appraisals and assessed values on their properties.

Next week, the assessor will announce scheduled for information bureaus for the San Rafael area.

San Geronimo and San Rafael areas are being reappraised this year, under the cycle reappraisal program which started in South Marin in 1959-60. Last year, the reappraisal covered Ross Valley up to White's Hill.

In each area that he reappraises, Broemmel sets up information bureaus so citizens who have questions will not have to take time off from work to travel to San Rafael.

The Church Takes The Time To Speak Out On Peace

Churches, which for centuries have preached peace, brotherhood, and fellowship, have become concerned that the word "peace" is being embraced and twisted to where it has almost become a naughty word.

At one point the Communists had it as a password. Now other groups are grasping it for aims some of which do not always exactly mesh with the church's ideas.

Church people have sometimes found themselves almost suspect or at least on the fringe of accusation because they taught peace as a way of life.

Now, finally, they have decided to do something about it, to make their position clear and to reiterate their basic beliefs.

That "something" has form in Marin tomorrow at an inter-faith conference designated "A Religious Concern For Peace." All "religiously motivated people" are invited to attend.

The inter-faith nature of the conference is remarkable in itself. It will be held at the Baptist Seminary grounds on Strawberry Point. One panel will include a Jew, a Catholic layman, a Presbyterian professor, a Methodist minister, and a Friends Service Committee executive.

The national director of the Methodist "Race For Peace" program will fly in from Washington to address a luncheon meeting.

Not all of these groups think just alike, either religiously or as to the best ways to reach people. But they are concerned that the voice of the church and synagogue be heard, that the concern of Christian and Jew for a peaceful world be voiced not by the right fringe or the left fringe or the middle fringe, but by the church itself.

We welcome such a conference to Marin County and compliment the many people who have worked to make it possible. We like a statement credited to Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom:

"If peace is not the first order of business for religion in the world, then religion has no business in the world."

SUBTLE DANGERS MOST PERILOUS

Two hunters were literally frozen stiff last winter in a Pennsylvania forest.

The oil stove went out during the night as they slept in a small hut. Imperceptibly the near-zero temperatures brought them to within an eyelash of death.

They awoke in the morning but could not move. Fortunately, they were discovered and taken to the hospital where a doctor and relays of nurses used all their skill to bring them back to normal.

Drugs and intravenous feeding finally got their bodily organs functioning again. They had frozen almost to a standstill. They returned to health without any major amputation.

Serious dangers, not only to physical life, but also to the life of the spirit, have a way of creeping up on the unsuspecting.

Take steps now to deepen your roots by prayer, spiritual reading and acts of charity so that you will be strong against subtle temptations.

"Put on the armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of of the devil." (Ephesians 6:11)

Help me uncover my weaknesses, O Holy Spirit, the better to serve You and all mankind.

Word To Remember: You've Been Wonderful Mother Over The Year

NEW YORK (AP)—My daughter Tracy, who will be nine years old next month, looked up from her peanut butter sandwich at my wife Frances and observed:

"You know, you've been a wonderful mother to me over the years."

It was so unexpected that my wife almost sliced off part of her hand instead of the bread.

"What did you say?" she asked.

"I said you've been a wonderful mother to me over the years," replied Tracy, calmly taking another bite of sandwich.

"Well, may I ask what brought on that remark?"

"Nothing. I was just thinking," said Tracy, and went outside to ride her bike.

Well, after she had left, my wife didn't know whether to laugh or cry, but the rest of the day she walked to the music of invisible bugles.

Parents are so used to being taken for granted that when a child simply and without self-consciousness states its debt of gratitude they are overwhelmed. It is as if a small tree should suddenly find a voice and thank the sunshine falling on its leaves.

But it is in such offhand moments of reward that one feels how profoundly worthwhile parenthood is.

When Frances later relayed to me the story of our daughter's praise, I had almost a feeling of envy.

"Do you suppose Tracy will ever tell me I've been a wonderful father to her over the years?" I asked.

"Could be," said Frances lightly. "It's a strange world."

In the mutuality of home life a parent can learn a lot from a child. And my observation of my daughter has led me to the conclusion that growing up today is a much more complicated process than it used to be.

Being a child in the old days was comparatively easy. All you had to do was arise before dawn, milk a thousand cows, then swim four miles to school with your baby brother on your back. After studying your ABC's, you swam the four miles back home, this time with your baby brother in your teeth, plowed 187 acres and went to bed.

Nothing to it. It was as simple as that.

BUT A CHILD today leads such a scheduled life it requires a parent to become a secretary as well as a chauffeur in order to fulfill all the obligations.

It seems to me my daughter never has any time in which to pause and merely be a child. The industry of growing up keeps her endlessly busy.

She merely thinks I'm trying to be funny when I tell her:

"DON'T BE IN such a hurry to be an adult. It's more fun to be a child now than later."

But I'm really not joking at all. Every parent probably has a wistful wish for his children to enjoy childhood as long as possible, and to postpone the pain of growing up.

Yet every child eagerly hurtles onward to hurt. They can't wait to grow up gradually.

Arches Lead To Collisions

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

There has been much published about "lane control" across the Golden Gate Bridge.

Two plans have been mentioned—arches with red and green lights and lane markers (also red and green lights) on the roadbed.

Besides being less costly, the lane markers would be much safer because they could be seen under all conditions. This morning (May 7) when I crossed the bridge, lane lights on arches would have been obscured by fog.

One can foresee pile-up collisions if the "arch" plan is used.

I hope this thought will come to the attention of those in authority.

Sinister Plot Against Marin

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The setting is the penthouse atop a gleaming, alabaster skyscraper. The richly furnished offices within reveal several portly, well-tailored, though sinister-appearing gentlemen. They have gathered together in order to hatch a dastardly scheme aimed at "a machine takeover of the country."

One important decision has just been reached. This sinister "cartel" has approved a motion that unrest and foment among the masses is necessary to the first phase of their venomous plans.

"We'll steal their telephone prefixes!" suggests the leader. The others all chuckle (evilly) and rub their hands together or twist the ends of their sinister black mustaches. "And we'll replace them with —NUMBERS!" he shouts.

The leader is whisked up onto the shoulders of his cohorts, who will indicate their approval by their nasty laughs and wicked leers, which are interspersed between the lyrics of the song they are singing—"For he's a nasty old fellow"—and incidentally the theme song of the ultra-exclusive "Big Interest Club."

Thus the plot of persecution against Marin County began.

This story is obviously a figment of my imagination and a ridiculous one at that. My limited imagination also allows me to:

(A) Visualize Marin County as a pioneer in a concept of ultimate global personal communications to which all-numeral dialing is a necessity.

(B) Realize that by dialing GL-6 or 45-6 I will still reach my party. (So what good is a year-old phone book, Mrs. Wertman?)

(C) Author my own letters rather than copy from my antagonists, and to hold on to the subject at hand rather than ramble on about old license plates. (Take note, Mr. Haskell.)

(D) Bet that Bonnie Burgan is not going to appreciate her name being misspelled.

Coroner Aspirant Not A Mortician

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I refer to your report of May 3 of the discussions on KTIM between the candidates for the office of coroner-public administrator.

The action of our Board of Supervisors taken earlier this year eliminating the archaic practice of compensating the coroner-public administrator on a fee basis should be commended. Previously a fee of $10 per case was paid to the coroner and he was also allowed to retain all administrator's fees paid to him as public administrator.

It is interesting to note, not only in our country but in others where this obsolete system of compensation has existed, the office has inescapably attracted morticians to stand for election. Unless controlled, the office of coroner-public administrator can be a source or feeder of mortuary business to a mortician incumbent.

The action taken by the Board of Supervisors provided for a salary commensurate with the office and the retention by the county of the fees heretofore paid to the coroner-public administrator, and simultaneously rendered improper the referral of coroner-public administrator cases to a mortuary of an incumbent. The office has thereby been made attractive in its own right, rather than as an instrument of personal gain to the private mortuary business of an incumbent.

It is significant in the light of this reform that for the first time, to my knowledge, we have an aspirant to the office who is not a mortician.

Apparently the incumbent, Frank J. Keaton, a mortician, is not in sympathy with the action taken by the Board of Supervisors and his opponent, Forrest N. Johnson, who is not a mortician, favors the action.

It would therefore appear to be a key issue in the campaign whether coroner-public administrator cases are to be treated with the same professional dignity and propriety as any other deaths, or become the spoils of political office.

One Candidate Removes Posters

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I was glad to see that one candidate had sense enough (or was it coercion?) to remove his political sign from under the Spencer overpass on Waldo Grade.

The second candidate's hideous neon-like sign still offends the good taste of the motorist who sees it as the only blemish on the uncluttered "101" roadside.

One wonders what sort of public "servant" such a person would make . . .

It's Now May And Time To Work On Corte Madera Center Parking

I was glad to hear that Frank Rusalem, owner of the Corte Madera Shopping Center, announced work on the parking lot at the center was going to start sometime this month.

After all, there was a valid reason for holding up construction. You can't work when it's raining. And the more technical reason being that the underportion of the lot was too soggy to permit underground work.

Even Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow, who doubles his role as town engineer, agreed that this was a valid reason for the months of delay in fixing the traffic mess in the center.

Brandow had a short snappy answer when told Rusalem had announced work would begin in May. In Brandow's words: "It's now May."

FROM WHAT I heard, Ken Vogel, captain of the Kentfield Fire Department, has been taking quite a bit of ribbing about a Larkspur fire which burned a small patch in the county dump last week.

It seems Vogel dumped from his pickup truck some rubbish which was pretty hot. Hot enough, in fact, to start a little fire.

All was OK as Larkspur firemen put out the blaze before it could do any damage.

I bet Vogel is now carefully watching what he hauls in the back of his pickup.

CORTE MADERA Volunteer Fire Department was having a barbecue last Sunday at the rear of the firehouse. The firemen and their wives and children were having a good time when 5 o'clock came.

If you have ever been near the Corte Madera firehouse when the 5 p.m. air horns go off, you know what a loud noise really is.

A lot of the firemen's wives nearly jumped from their chairs when the first blast bellowed from the horns. But the veteran firemen took the whole thing in stride.

JUST A PLAY with our dear English language: Do you know why ghoti is actually pronounced fish?

Well, you see, it's this-a-way. Take the first two letters, "gh," and pronounce them as you would if they were the last two letters of the word, "enough." Makes an f sound, ya'see.

Next you take the "o" out of "women" and pronounce it the same way in our word. Lastly you take the "ti" from the word "nation" and come up with the sound of shh.

The rest is easy. Put "gh," "o," and "ti" together, pronounce it as explained above, and come up with the word, "fish."

And we wonder why the English language is often said to be one of the hardest languages for a foreigner to learn?

I HAVE OFTEN heard of leaving little babies on doorsteps (much more than it is actually done), but it seems pretty rare to leave a baby's car seat and a stuffed dog on a doorstep.

But that's what I found on my doorstep the other night. Wife Martha and I are completely bewildered as to where the items came from and have been asking our friends lately, but have drawn a blank.

And no notes either. Mystery donor, please sign in.

To Everybody's Surprise The Voters Proving To Be Low-Tariff Minded

WASHINGTON — To the surprise of nearly everybody in Washington, voters generally—business and labor, conservative and liberals — are showing themselves overwhelmingly low-tariff minded. Purpose: to enable the U. S. to compete in the European Common Market.

When President Kennedy overruled some of his principal aides and decided that a radical revision of trade policy should not be postponed until after the elections, he was told that he would be pressing a right idea at the wrong time under the worst possible circumstances.

The President was warned by those who wanted to be cautious that he would stir a lacerating controversy in Congress, alienate many Republicans and Southern Democrats whose support he would need, and generate massive business and labor protectionist opposition particularly at a time when there was still high unemployment.

AND WHAT HAS happened? That which his aides most feared for the President has not come upon him. Kennedy was either politically wiser than his advisors or politically more courageous in deciding not to delay asking Congress to bring U. S. trade policy in line with the European Common Market.

As the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 moves through its final stages at the hands of the House Ways and Means Committee and onto the floor of Congress for action, what many thought would be a divisive national debate has turned into decisive national approval.

IT HAS THE approval of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the AFL-CIO.

Its objectives are supported by the leadership of the Republican party and Americans for Democratic Action.

It has the indorsement of a wide spectrum of leading newspapers. It is supported by the National Grange and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Dun's Review, a business management magazine, asked the chief executives of nearly 300 companies, large and small, covering a broad range of industry. The result: Three out of four supported tariff reform.

IT IS SIGNIFICANT that the most bitter attack upon the European Common Market, upon Britain's decision to join, and upon our decision to pursue parallel trade policies, comes from the Soviet Union.

The Kremlin rightly sees the Common Market and its expansion as the greatest barrier to Communism, not because it is directed against the Soviet Union, but because it is directed at the strengthening of the whole free world —capable of creating a permanent preponderance of economic, political, and military power which will be irresistible.

West Marin High School Study Asked

A group of Point Reyes area residents today called on the State Board of Education to make its own study of the high school preferences of parents in West Marin School District.

The West Marin Citizens Committee for Better Education reported it has made a survey which showed that more than half the parents send their eighth grade graduates elsewhere than to Tomales High School.

The committee, headed by Philip K. Dick and Lee C. Richardson Jr., is fighting a proposal to unify Tomales High School District with seven Marin and Sonoma elementary school districts — including West Marin.

The unification proposal was to be before the state board for a second time at a board meeting yesterday in Hayward, but was taken off the agenda after the Sonoma County counsel ruled that the Sonoma County Committee on School District Organization had not held the required hearings before endorsement.

The West Marin committee, in a letter to Thomas W. Braden, president of the State Board of Education, reported these findings:

Eleven of the 22 students who graduated last year from eighth grade at West Marin School are now attending high schools other than Tomales.

Parents of 16 of this year's 28 eighth graders at West Marin plan to have their children attend some other high school than Tomales.

Parents of 13 of this year's 24 seventh graders plan to send their children elsewhere than Tomales High School.

Further, wrote Dick and Richardson, "we find that many of the parents who intend to send their children to Tomales High School are extremely unhappy about it."

West Marin graduates attend Dominican Upper School in San Rafael, Ursuline Convent School in Santa Rosa, Marin Catholic High School, San Rafael Military Academy, and Sir Francis Drake High School.

The major share go to Drake or Marin Catholic, to both of which bus service is provided by a West Marin resident at $195 for the school year, said the letter. To attend Drake, however, the parents must arrange for an inter-district agreement between Tomales and Tamalpais High School Districts. Many find this impossible or too difficult.

The letter alleged that some parents who have come out for unification with Tomales High School District send their children to Marin Catholic High or other Catholic schools.

It reported some parents feel particularly bitter because no member of the West Marin School District board sends his child to Tomales High.

"The West Marin Citizens Committee for Better Education finds the entire survey indicative of local public sentiment regarding Tomales High School and requests the State Board of Education to use the facilities available to it to investigate thoroughly the question of high school preferences in the West Marin School District," the letter concludes.

Students Attend People To People School Conference

Four Marin student leaders returned to their campuses this week following the state's first People to People college conference in Sacramento.

The students, Suzanne LeCount and Sharon Kessev of the College of Marin and Ruth Ann Hoey and Anne Spieler of Dominican College, were among representatives from colleges and universities throughout Northern California who attended a day-long meeting called by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Purpose of the conference was to set up People to People programs on every Northern California college campus that has visiting foreign students. The conference was conducted by three national co-directors of the program: Bill Dawson, University of Kansas senior; Rick Barnes, law student of the same university, and Rafer Johnson, 1959 graduate of University of California and 1960 Olympic decathlon champion.

The People to People program is conducted to build understanding and friendship between Americans and people abroad.

New Women's Shop Opening

The Clothes Closet, a new store selling women's wear and clothes for teen-agers has been opened at 638 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo.

The business is owned by Margaret Walker of San Francisco and her daughter, Mrs. Denise Nittenberg, 26 Belle Avenue, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Walker said they expect to handle a full line of dresses, lingerie, hose and sportswear.

The premises were previously occupied by Sally's Apparel.

PUC Hearing Set On Ferry Service

A public hearing on granting Harbor Tug and Barge Co. a certificate to operate a public ferry service between Tiburon and San Francisco will be held by the California Public Utilities Commission on May 23 at 10 a.m.

The company now operates the ferry run as a commute club under charter by members. A PUC certificate is necessary for the operation to be extended to the general public.

Examiner John K. Power will head the hearing in the commission courtroom in the State Building in San Francisco.

Change Of Command Set At Hamilton

A formal review and change of command ceremony at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Hamilton Air Force Base will be accompanied by a fly-by and parade of all 78th Fighter Wing personnel.

At the public ceremony, Col. Harvey E. Henderson will formally turn over command of the 78th Fighter Wing and the base to Col. William F. Barns.

Colonel Henderson has been reassigned to Laos after being commander at Hamilton for a year and one-half. Colonel Barns will command the base until the permanent commander, Col. William S. Harrell, assumes command about July 1.

Two diamond formations, each with four F-101's, will highlight the program prior to the parade of 800 personnel of the 78th Fighter Wing.

School Cafeteria Is Looted Of $20

The San Rafael High School cafeteria was looted of $20 Wednesday night, police reported today.

The money was in two cash boxes in the store room. The thief entered by boring a three-inch hole in the door alongside the door knob. Police said the thief was "very neat" and apparently knew where the money was kept.

Rescue Equipment To Be Displayed

Rescue equipment will be displayed by four fully equipped para-rescue airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base Air Rescue Center on Saturday at the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

The airmen will explain rescue operations from 2 to 4 p.m. On display all day Saturday and Sunday will be a F-102 Delta Dagger jet plane equipped with a missile.

The display will be in the Center parking lot.

'Wake Up,' San Rafael Told

the speakers last night are the same that have been urged for years: better entry to and exit from town, more offstreet parking, better traffic flow, First Street extension, a thoroughfare to San Anselmo, and beautification.

However, each speaker last night injected a note of urgency, pointing out that competition from shopping centers is not around the corner, it's already here.

Mayor Height, whose city of Palo Alto is fighting to meet the competition of the Stanford Shopping Center, warned that "if the Emporium comes to your area, the pressure will be on." He said San Rafael faces what Palo Alto faced six years ago.

"You're most fortunate to have Macy's sitting in the downtown area," said Height. "Lift Macy's out of there and you'll really be in trouble. At least you have Macy's to build around. We don't even have that."

The other panelists had this to say:

George Lawrence, manager of Lachman Brothers: Tomorrow is here; this is the time for action rather than conversation. Merchants, landlords and city fathers must cooperate. In the past, "it seems as if we've been working apart from each other rather than together."

Lachman Brothers waited for a major shopping center to develop in Marin, but when it failed to materialize, the company chose to settle in downtown San Rafael. A shopping center in the Terra Linda area of the city can be counteracted if San Rafael improves its entry and exit, parking, and traffic.

J. B. Rice of J. B. Rice Co.: The city cannot afford to sit around waiting for the state to make up its mind about the freeway through the city. Write to legislators and demand action. "If we don't straighten out the Highway 101 situation and the route between San Rafael and San Anselmo, we might as well put a fence around the city and forget it."

Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby: There is no anti-business sentiment on the city council. The city is doing as much as it can to increase offstreet parking, and improve traffic flow. Four parking lots have been set up, and that must be more than doubled to start relieving the parking problem.

High cost is holding up the First Street extension plan. When the highway agreement is completed, a one-way street system can be set up and both ends of town opened. Then, when more offstreet parking lots are set up, diagonal parking on Fourth Street can be abolished to improve traffic flow.

William Brooke of Community Consultants, Inc.: Shopping centers have an advantage because they can start designing on open land. But San Rafael has the advantage of being able to offer diversified services which most shopping centers cannot meet.

The obvious starting point for San Rafael is beautification. Make it an attractive city; get a theme to make it an individual and unique city. Downtown buildings have no coordination in color or in street signs, for example. Sidewalk decorations such as planting should be considered.

Moderator Irving Chapman, of Chapman Shoes: "Delay is our greatest enemy." San Rafael needs modern tools—parking, improved traffic flow, attractive stores—"right now."

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades, drew two rounds of trumps with the queen and ace, and then led out three rounds of diamonds.

DEFEAT CONTRACT: East won the third diamond and returned the jack of clubs. West took two club tricks and cashed the queen of spades to defeat the contract.

It shouldn't be hard to spot the criminal since there's only one prime candidate. But what was the crime? Decide for yourself before you read on.

South was the criminal, of course, and he didn't wait long to commit his crime. His very first play should have put him behind bars.

REFUSE TRICK: The correct play is to refuse the first trick. If West switches to diamonds, the best defense, dummy wins and declarer cashes just one round of trumps. Then South leads the jack of spades and allows West to win the trick with the queen.

West returns a diamond, which dummy wins. Now declarer takes the queen of hearts and leads the ace of spades to get rid of a diamond. This is the key play of the hand.

South can now ruff a diamond and return with a trump to dummy's jack to cash two good diamonds. Declarer discards two clubs on the diamonds, thus assuring the contract.

The idea is to give West a spade trick instead of giving East a diamond trick. West is no threat, since a club lead by West would allow South to win a trick with the king of clubs. East is the player who must be kept out of the lead.

Today is Friday, May 11, the 131st day of the year with 234 to follow in 1962.

The moon is in its first quarter.

On this day in history:

In 1934, dust storms in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Colorado, blew hundreds of thousands of tons of topsoil eastward into the Atlantic Ocean.

In 1910, Glacier National Park in Montana was created by an act of Congress.

A thought for today: Roman philosopher Epictetus said: "Whatever you would make habitual, practice it; and if you would not make a thing habitual, do not practice it, but habituate yourself to something else."

Rookie Perry No Pitching Fluke; He Looks Every Inch A Veteran

CONNOLLY

In case you're wondering if Gaylord Perry, the young S.F. Giant, is a pitching fluke, just dismiss the thought. The sprout righthander looked every inch a veteran and seasoned pitcher against the Pittsburgh Pirates. He got his bumps against the Chicago Cubs in his next start, but he showed no traces of scarey or fidgety antics.

In both games against the Pirates and Cubs, Perry threw naturally, seemed to have the "book" on each batter and behaved like a confident young man who gives every indication of "belonging." Betwixt and between now and next October, he might become a saviour for the Giants.

To night we'll see how he does against the Colts.

MOST OF my scouts who watched him in both games detected good contro., a nice change of pace, and one outstanding good trait—he pitched low with every type of throw.

His showing against Pittsburgh you can forget. The Pirates have been very kind in other years to Giant rookies. Remember Eddie Fisher looked like Grover Cleveland Alexander, but never finished another game against them.

Perry's pitching has warmed the cockles of Horace Stoneham's heart. The Giant boss dished out 90,000 scooties to sign the 23-year-old boy from North Carolina whose older brother Jim Perry is a Cleveland regular.

Unlike most phenoms, Perry served his apprenticeship in the Giant organization, having had good seasons at Harlington in the Texas League and with Tacoma last year where he won 16 and 10, chalking up an earned run mark of 2.55.

PROGRESS OF the type of Perry over the years was one of the main reasons Manager Dark stubbornly insisted he could do it this season.

Watching him in the spring was comparable to seeing Billy Pierce get clouted about and still arguing he would make it in the National League. Both Pierce and Perry got their brains knocked out and yet managed to win their way into the hearts of the San Francisco fans.

Perry's starting role wasn't necessitated by a lack of pitchers but rather the result of skipper Dark's confidence in the kid.

One of the criticisms of Perry has been that he might be a bit lazy. But not so from the press box. He looked like a baby faced boy doing a man's job.

A FEW OLD timers who had some suspicions about Perry were equally surprised when Manager Dark assigned rookie catcher Tom Haller to do the catching, figuring Ed Bailey and his experience might be of more help. But Haller, like Perry, served notice he also is "ready" both as a catcher and as a hitter.

For the Giants to maintain their present gait in the National League they're going to need all the pitching they can get plus the continued effectiveness of Chuck Hiller and Jose Pagan. This second base combination has been sensational and doing it in such a style as to indicate they are quite natural and confident.

While the goose hangs high we might as well say there will be days when things do not look so rosy. But for the nonce the Giants, each and every one of them, should stand up and take a bow—they've arrived.

Giants' Artillery Takes On Colt .45s

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants rolled their big guns into Texas for the first time today to test the firepower of Houston Colts.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry (2-0) will duel Houston's Dick Farrell (2-2) in an individual encounter from the mound.

Manager Alvin Dark's troops unlimbered their artillery last night against St. Louis, as pitcher Billy O'Dell served the Cardinals nothing but birds' eggs in a contest that was umpired right down to the last raindrop.

The Giants were holding a six-run lead when a spectacular lightning and thunderstorm rolled in during the late innings.

O'Dell had two Cardinals down and two strikes on the final batter in the bottom of the ninth, when chief umpire Jocko Conlin decided that the crucial raindrop had splattered onto the playing field. He called the game at that point—and the Giants had a 6-0 victory.

O'Dell was superb as he posted his fifth victory without defeat, scattering four hits, striking out seven, allowing only one base on balls. He also thwarted Stan Musial's attempt to tie Honus Wagner's all-time National League hit record of 3,430.

Musial, who got two hits off the Giants Wednesday night to run his total to 3,429, went hitless in four attempts against O'Dell. The defeat also dropped the second place Cardinals four full games behind the Giants and into a virtual tie for second with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

San Francisco put the game on ice via the long ball. Felipe Alou drove in two runs in the fourth inning with a double off the wall, and Willie McCovey smashed a towering three-run homer in the fifth. Cardinal pitcher Bob Gibson suffered the damage.

McCovey took over for outfielder Harvey Kuenn, who left the Giants for a few days because of the death of his father. Big Willie had two hits in three attempts, before he was relieved in right field by Mickey Mota.

Chuck Hiller singled home San Francisco's final run in the ninth with his second hit of the night.

Reed Witt Edged By Whit Reed

Redwood High's Reed Witt of Larkspur was edged by Whitney Reed of Alameda, top ranked tennis player in the United States, in the California State Tennis Championships at the California Tennis Club in San Francisco yesterday.

Reed Witt after losing the first set to Whitney, came back to take the first four games of the second set and was only eight points from victory, but then Whitney swept the next five games to move into a 5-4 lead. Reed Witt came back to tie Whitney 5-5, but Whitney concluded the set in his favor with sizzling service, 7-5.

The win advanced Whitney Reed to the quarterfinals today against Bill Hoogs Jr. of Cal, and Reed Witt was to pair with Gary Rose in doubles action against the Ward-Hepner team today at 4 p.m.

Windwagons Assault Vallejo In Yacht Opener Tomorrow

By ALFRED MATSON

Tomorrow morning a vast fleet of windwagons will converge on the waters off the Richmond breakwater for the annual assault upon the fair city of Vallejo and, as in the past, the invasion will be a complete success.

Yet the following day the marine brigades will withdraw and the great armada will sail away and be but a legend for another year.

Since before the turn of the century the race to Vallejo has been one of the high, or low, marks of the season, depending on the individual viewpoint. Its declaimers are legion and yet, by and large, very few of them are absent when the next run on Vallejo is the order of the day.

The starting line will be between YRA mark 27 buoy and the committee boat off the Richmond breakwater. Fittingly enough, the imposing fleet of ocean greyhounds that battle it out in Cruising Club "A" will be the initial starters at noon and the racing season for 1962 will be officially opened.

Cruising Club "B" will start five minutes later and the other divisions and classes will enter the fray at the same time intervals until 1:20 p.m. when the Pacific Clippers and Tritons will have the dubious distinction of tail-ending the parade.

The finish line will be between the committee boat and marker No. 2 about one and one-half miles south of the Vallejo Yacht Club. Starts for the return leg on Sunday will be at 10 a.m. with the Pacific Clippers and Division 17 heading the pack.

Incidentally, for those interested, a good vantage point for Saturday's hassel is on the Contra Costa shore, north of the Richmond Bridge and up to Point Orient.

The Small Boat Racing Assn. is also holding a two-day regatta on Lake Merritt. The El Toro, Penguin and Melody classes will lead off the action at 10 a.m. tomorrow and at 11:30 Division 3, which comprises the Snipe, Thistle, Day Sailor and Finn, will make their starts.

On Sunday the same starting times for Division 2, Lido 14, Coast 13, Blue Jay, Blue Buoy and Satellite and Division 4, 110, Zephyr and Mercury, respectively.

Injuns Vs. Yankees In A.L. Showdown

COMBINED AP & UPI

Fresh from a successful road trip and with first place in their sights, the Cleveland Indians now go for broke—in a four-game series with the New York Yankees that could prove the most telling of the young American League season.

Sparked by one of their new faces, rookie outfielder Ty Cline, the Indians rapped Minnesota 9-4 yesterday and inched to within 1½ games of the front-running Yankees, who had the day off.

Cline had a pair of two-run singles as the Indians roared away from the Twins with four runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth, and also chipped in with another single in Cleveland's 13-hit offensive.

Jim Perry survived an early shelling and went the distance for the Indians, allowing eight hits.

Also in the A.L. Early Wynn registered pitching victory No. 294 as the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 3-1, Los Angeles downed Detroit 6-4, Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2. Boston, like the Yankees, took the day off.

In the National League, first-place San Francisco blanked runnerup St. Louis 6-0, Los Angeles knocked off Houston 6-2 and Milwaukee topped Pittsburgh 4-3. The New York Mets and the Cubs were again idled by cold weather at Chicago, while Philadelphia and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

For tonight's opener, Cleveland's rookie manager Mel McGaha has Jim "Mudcat" Grant, on loan from the Army, set to go against Ralph Terry, who beat the Indians four out of four last year.

Yesterday against the Twins, Perry got bombed for homers by the first two men he faced, Lennie Green and Vic Power, and fell behind 3-0 when Green doubled in another run in the second. But the Indians rocked loser Don Lee, Georges Maranda and Ted Sadowski for their four-run bursts in the fourth and fifth, making it a breeze for Perry the rest of the way.

Don Drysdale of the L.A. Dodgers yielded homers to Roman Mejias and Carl Warwick but allowed only one other hit in scoring his fifth victory. Drysdale retired 17 consecutive batters until Warwick's homer in the ninth. Rookie Larry Burright homered for the Dodgers.

Frank Bolling's ninth-inning homer gave the Braves their victory after Mack Jones' three-run homer in the eighth produced a 3-3 tie. Hank Fischer picked up the win for one scoreless inning of relief pitching before 2,746, smallest crowd in the history of Milwaukee's County Stadium.

SCANLON WINS AN UNPOPULAR 9-0 DECISION

OAKLAND (UPI) — Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco, making his first fight after a two-year layoff, scored an unpopular decision over Chico Santos of Oakland in a 10-rounder last night at Oakland auditorium.

Scanlon, showing signs of rustiness, had his hands full until he dropped Santos for an eight-count in the final stanza.

Referee Rudy Ortega, the only official, scored the fight, 9-0, but the crowd jeered the lop-sidedness of the verdict.

Scanlon's record now shows 36 wins, 5 losses and 1 draw.

Scanlon weighed 138 and Santos 138½.

ELLIS WILLIAMS
Prep of the Week

Tam's Swift Soph Williams Wins Prep Of Week Honors

Ellis Williams, Tamalpais High's versatile track and field athlete, has been selected "Prep of the Week" by the Independent-Journal.

Williams, one of the few sophomores to have been given the honor, is expected today to come home with at least two first place medals from the Marin County Athletic League championships at San Rafael High. In the trials last Friday the classical pianist won his heat in the 100-yard dash in 10.5 seconds, and his heat in the 220 in 22.8 seconds, one tenth of a second behind San Rafael ace Mike Shafer, who won his trial heat in 22.7. Williams also won the broad jump with a 20-foot, 3½ inch leap.

Bringing home more than one medal is not exactly a new experience for Williams. Last year during his first season of organized track and field action, Williams won four first place awards in the Class B competition of the MCAL championships: the 75-yard and 150-yard dashes, and the broad jump. And was given a medal as anchor man on the winning relay team.

STAR HALFBACK

Williams was third in scoring as a first string halfback on one of the school's finest Jay Vee football teams this past season, and was considered the most reliable pass defender on the squad. During basketball season he was a first string forward on the varsity squad. Last year he also lettered in Class B basketball.

Williams credits much of his success this season to his coaches, Henry Marshall and Mike Davlin.

"Mr. Marshall completely changed my style of running in the middle of this season," says Williams. "He said I used to gallop."

NEW STYLE

By altering Williams' style so that his legs and arms move more smoothly and quickly while his upper body stays balanced and poised, Marshall has Ellis down to what may be called a winning trot.

Williams said that Marshall also is helping him with his formerly troubled starts. "He decided to move the right starting block ahead more than I had previously used it for more coil and thus quicker starts," explains Williams.

Williams says track will continue to be his key athletic interest and that he hopes to attend a "good college with a good track program."

MUSIC TEACHING

For his future Williams may seek a career in music or teaching. At Tam he is a B-plus student, taking his best grades in music and French, his two preferred subjects. Ellis is a member of the school's Honor Society and of the Music Club. He plays the piano and clarinet in the Tam orchestra and takes private lessons in the instruments as well. Williams hopes to someday give some piano concerts. The composers he favors are Chopin, Mozart, Beethoven, and contemporary jazz artists.

Ellis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis R. Williams of House 129 Marin City. Ellis' father is an employee of the Glendale Construction Co. of Corte Madera. A native of San Rafael, Ellis has resided in Marin all his life.

AT FRESNO

Records May Fall In Coast Relays

FRESNO (UPI) — University of Oregon, boasting the greatest quartet of milers ever attending one college at the same time, goes after the world four-mile relay mark tomorrow noon in the West Coast Relays.

It's the kick-off of the 36th annual track and field carnival which boasts the slogan that this is where world records are broken.

Headlining the fearsome foursome of Webfoots is Dyrol Burleson, who has bettered the four-minute barrier. His best time this year is a nice 4:01.2. Archie San Romani, son of a one-time great track star at USC, has been clocked in 4:03.8, Vic Reeve in 5.05.5 and Keith Forman 4:06.2.

If they all get together on a best time they could crack the world mark set by the New Zealand team led by Peter Snell and Murray Halberg, which is 16:23.8.

VAULTING DUEL

The four-mile relay event will be the early feature of the show. During the night events, the only two men in history ever to clear the 16-foot mark will tangle for the first time.

They are the Marines, John Uelses and David Tork—aand their battle may last through most of the night. Besides these two high-flying performers, there are at least a half dozen others who have cleared 15 feet or better—which was a magic height just a few years ago.

The 100-yard dash also shapes up as a dandy, with Harry Jerome, the Canadian from Oregon; Larry Dunn of Arizona and Dennis Johnson of San Jose State all having been clocked in 9.3—a tenth of a second off the recognized world record.

There's a seven-foot high jumper in the competition, too, in the person of Gene Johnson of California; Dallas Long, the USC ace, will be tossing out past the 60-foot mark in the shot; and Jay Silvester of Fort Ord and Rink Babka will be gunning for that elusive 200-foot mark in the discus.

100,000 May Turn Out For Indy Speeders

INDIANAPOLISE (AP) — The possibility that somebody will travel the 2½ miles around old Indianapolis Motor Speedway in one minute flat is expected to attract upward of 100,000 speed fans tomorrow to the first qualifying session for the 46th 500-mile race May 30.

Parnelli Jones of Torrance, king of the high-banked half-mile tracks, has missed the first 150-mile-an-hour lap by only 12/100 of a second in practice. His speed on the unofficial run was 149.701 against the two-year-old official record of 149,610 by Jim Hurtubise, Lennox.

Cars qualifying Saturday will hold their positions in the starting lineup, regardless of speeds made in other qualifying runs Sunday and the following weekend. However, the 33 fastest cars over all will make up the field.

Duffer's Pro

Dual Purpose Of Long Tee

By DOUG SANDERS

There you are on the first tee. Clean shoes, clean scorecard, no whiffs, hooks or slices. You're full of confidence and optimism.

You should be. I've told how to use a gosh-awful swing—like mine— and by remembering a few vital points break 100, or even 90, instead of your clubs.

At every tee you should keep the confident mental attitude you brought out of the clubhouse. This game must be played without tension.

Most courses give the duffer a break on the first hole, saving the par 5s and water holes for later.

"Get 'em off," is the motto of many courses. "Let 'em have their trouble away from the pro shop." Take advantage of this. And keep on thinking about position all the way around the course. Shoot for a spot that will give you the best position for the next shot.

After all, the only place you can pick your lie is on the tee. That's why selection of the tee is important.

I like a deep tee. Mine are two and a half inches long. The long tee serves a dual purpose. Most courses usually have thick grass on the tees. A normal size tee could leave the underside of the ball touching grass. The ball should be above the grass. The clubhead must contact the ball before anything else.

I also use a long tee because I try to hit the ball just as the club begins its upward arc. That gives the ball overspin, a much better roll down the fairway and possibly a better bounce, if you land in the rough.

When you tee the ball high you're not beating down on it and this helps give you a better follow through.

If your tee shot should land in trouble don't always try to blast out. The shortest way home is often the longest way around. Example:

In the 1961 Insurance City Open in Hartford, Conn., Billy Maxwell hooked his tee shot on the 18th hole on the last round. The ball landed against a pine tree in the rough 150 yards from the green.

Billy is only 5 feet 7 and that helped him crouch under the branches. But what helped more was his idea how to play out of trouble. Paying little heed to the 3,000 spectators he took about 20 practice swings. Instead of going for broke, he took a 4 iron and punched the ball out about 50 feet.

That was his best hope and that's what he did. That dinky little shot saved him a tie with Ted Kroll in the $30,000 tourney. He won the playoff an hour later.

Billy had a 66 that day and his 18th tee shot was his poorest of the week. His best shot was that smart one out of trouble.

MONDAY: The Irons.

Marin Swimmers Win Six Novice Titles

Youthful Marin County swimmers picked up six first place ribbons last weekend in the first annual San Leandro Novice Swim Meet. They represented Coach Bob Casci's Tamalpais Swim Club and Coach Beth Kauman's Marin Pirates team.

For the Tam Club Jack Shapiro won the 50-yard breaststroke in 38.8 seconds and was a member of a winning relay team that also included Dave Westerbeke, Mike Macdonald and Mike Meissensee. Tam's other first was the relay team of Sue Lane. Sharie Averill, Nancy Nadolski and Nancy Behr.

Pirate winners were Teresa Carlisle in the 100-yard individual medley in 1 minute, 23.7 seconds and the relay teams of Lisa Dapprich, Donna Politi, Roberta Shistar and Gayle Hartwick and Gary Cheroske, Chet Carlisle, Dirk Van Zante and Bob Friend.

Pirates Tinka Gatterdam, Dorelle Ball, Gayle Hartwick and Roberta Shistar were second in the 11-12 girls' free relay, and Sandy Ball, Dan Sullivan, Doug Rippe and John Rippe were third in the 10 and under boys' 100 free relay.

Gary Cheroske was second in the 13-14 boys' 200 individual medley and third in the 50 butterfly. Joanne Hill grabbed a second in 10 and under girls' 50 breast, and John Skaer was sixth in the 13-15 boys' 50 breast. Lisa Dapprich was fourth in the 11-12 girls' 50 back and Donna Politi brought in two sixths for the Pirates, in the 11-12 girls' individual medley and 50 free.

Tam's other leading swimmers were Diane DeMartini and the relay team of Pam Kopan, Miss DeMartini, Nancy Nadolski and Valerie Gross with seconds.

Miss Nadolski copped two third place ribbons. Sue Krieger and Emil Thomson also scored a third as did the relay teams of Vickie Hoetger, Sue Lane, Nancy Behr and Pam Kopan and David Boese, Dan McNeill, Paul Stewart and Ken Lehrer.

Vickie Hoetger scored two fourth places as did the Tam relay team of Bruce Thomson, Mike Macdonald, Jack Shapiro and Mike Weissensee.

Nancy Nadolski and the quartet of Val Varney, Robin McNeill, Pam Koppan and Diane DeMartini scored fifth places while a sixth was garnered by Vickie Hoetger.

The swimmers' ages ranged from 10-14 years of age.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

Local Angling Picture Is Cloudy, But Should Improve Over Weekend

STEVENS

So the fishing picture locally is cloudy. The salmon outside the Gate still refuse to cooperate, the local bass fishing generally is far from bright and even the black bass crappies and bluegills seem to have gone on strike. Eleven phone calls to my regular contacts netted almost nothing.

Almost, I said. To use a cliche, every cloud has a silver lining—and a few of the wise guys found the said lining. You may also, if you will try your hand at plug casting from the Rock Wall south of the Berkeley Pier. Suggest you use either a Bayou Boggie or a lucky 13 plug. Some nice bass have been taken from that area the past few evenings, Nothing doing during the day — you get them from around 6 o'clock to one hour after sunset. Fish to 18 pounds have been taken.

Still another spot where some nice bass have been taken, also after work in the late hours of the day, is by the KLX towers. Lou Ranier has been casting large pile worms in that area and taking fish to 16 pounds.

Some fair results have been had in the Oakland Estuary, but only fair, and mostly trolling.

Bob McGuire of the San Leandro Recreation Department called to report approximately 60 anglers unloaded 78 bass with Jackie O'Grant being top rod with an 11½-pound bass. The average, however, was between two and five pounds.

YOU WILL note by your tide book that the minus tides are now over. As predicted in Tuesday's column, fishing for stripers historically improves greatly as soon as the tides return to normal, so sharpen your hooks and take a chance at the usual spots from today until the 19th of the month when another series of minus tides which will gladden the hearts of the abalone pickers and clam diggers but will sadden the local striper strivers. The back country haunts should be especially good over the coming weekend — providing, of course, no heavy winds.

AT LONG last we will have easy access to bass fishing in Petaluma River and the northern San Pablo Bay. The launching ramp is located under the west end of the Petaluma River Bridge on Highway 37 near Black Point in Marin County. Plenty of space for parking and a concrete launching ramp.

The Petaluma River was once one of the most productive bass fishing waters we had. Some of the largest stripers of record were taken on that stream.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson, the National Boxing Assn. light heavyweight champion, has won the first round of a legal bout with his manager over purses and now has his sights set on Doug Jones in their 15-round nationally televised title bout at the arena tomorrow night.

"I feel better now," said Johnson, 33, who had threatened to pull out of the fight if his purse were held in escrow by legal action or if his manager, Pat Olivieri, was allowed to take the manager's share immediately after the fight.

But late yesterday it was decided after conferences among attorneys, a judge and Alfred M. Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, that Johnson's 50 per cent share of the purse would not be held up.

PAY IMPOUNDED

But Olivieri's 50 per cent cut will be impounded pending the outcome of the champion's suit to break his contract with the manager and collect $4,600 which he claims Olivieri owes him from the Eddie Cotton fight last August. A hearing is set for June 4.

Johnson has claimed it was stipulated when he signed the contract for the Jones' fight he was to get his share immediately while Olivieri's would be held up pending disposition of the case.

Johnson and Jones, 25, the No. 1 contender from New York, who has lost only once in 20 fights, finished up the heavy work in their training grind. Both planned loosening up workouts today before tomorrow's noon weigh-in.

Whitey Ford was the first American Leaguer to win 25 games in one season since 1949 when Mel Parnell took 25 decisions for the Boston Red Sox.

TONY THE TIGER — Anthony Giusti of Kentfield, has been a standout in spring football drills at New Mexico State University. The six-foot, 205-pound sophomore has been splitting his time between guard and linebacker. The spring practice sessions will conclude the night of May 19 with the annual varsity-alumni game. Giusti, a 1961 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, is majoring in business administration at NMSU.

Coroner Files $250,000 Suit In Death By Gas Heater Fumes

A quarter-million-dollar damage suit was filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court for the accidental death of a San Geronimo mechanic, who apparently was overcome by fumes from a faulty heater last March 5.

County Coroner Frank J. Keaton filed the suit as administrator of the estate of Robert L. Townsend, 33, a service station mechanic who lived at Oak Tree Inn. Townsend was found dead in his room, with the heater partially dismantled, as if he had been in the process of repairing it.

Named as defendants are William J. Rossi, his wife Anna Marie, and Caterina Pieri, owners of Oak Tree Inn. The suit contends that the carbon monoxide fumes from a faulty gas heater caused Townsend's death.

Keaton asks for $250,000 damages, to be apportioned to Townsend's wife, Mary Marcella Townsend of San Rafael, and their two children, Linda, 8, and Michael, 7.

ADMIRING FURNISHINGS in the living room of the Abe Melmon home which will be one of the seven Greenbrae homes on display for the May 19 "Casas Bonitas" tour of the Greenbrae Acorns Guild of Sunny Hills are committee members, from left, Mesdames David Sullivan and Gene Hiller. The two members, on a preview tour, are intrigued with the sparkling lamps which adorn the pink marble fireplace.

NEXT STOP FOR the two committee members is the Monte Ambinder home where the mirrored bar is the focal point of the family room. The bar which has a black and white color scheme, is accessible to the entertaining area of the home.

Greenbrae Guild Preview Tour Of 'Casas Bonitas' On May 19

Seven Greenbrae residences will be open to the public on May 19, when the Greenbrae Acorns Guild of Sunny Hills presents "Casas Bonitas."

Enjoying a preview tour of the homes and gardens selected for the guild's first fund-raising event, are two committee members Mesdames David Sullivan and Gene Hiller.

Emphasizing the oriental influence in garden design will be the homes of the James Hamiltons and the Clarin Zumwalts. The Hamilton garden was designed by George Murata, and features a Japanese tea house amidst an array of specimen plants. Of particular interest to tour-goers will be Mrs. Hamilton's unique collection of more than 100 crystal paper weights, attractively displayed on glass-shelved picture windows.

THE HILLSIDE site of the Zumwalt residence incorporates a terraced setting for the serenity of waterfalls and shade plants under its sprawling oaks. Beamed ceilings and bold accents of persimmon flavor the interior.

Outstanding architectural structure in the contemporary feeling will be illustrated in the Stuart Greenberg Jr. and Monte Ambinder homes. The combined talents of architect Robert Appleton and decorator Jean Carter are reflected throughout the Greenberg residence, with particular emphasis on the redwood and glass living room overlooking the pool area.

The Ambinder residence was decorated by J. T. Wilner, AID, Los Angeles, stressing a spacious effect for large-scale entertaining. In a predominently black and white scheme, the dark parquet floors offer a dramatic contrast to the white sculptured carpet and free-standing fireplace.

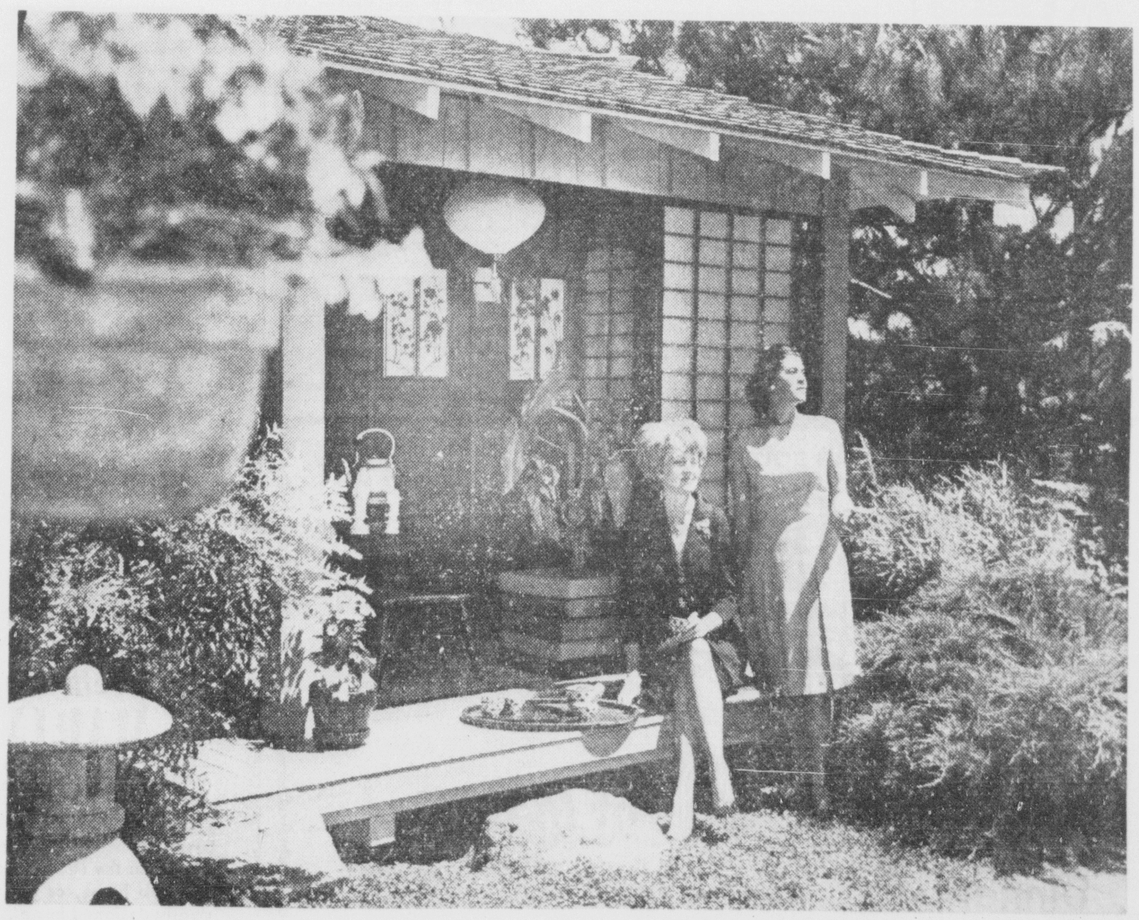
IN CONTRASTING decor will be the elegant collections of French and Italian furnishings throughout the Abe Melmon, A. J. Finocchio, and Boyle-Ahern homes. Pink and white hues, highlighted by the golden accents of French antiques, compliment the beautifully carved furniture in the Melmon residence.

The A. J. Finocchios have introduced a Far Eastern touch to their French furnishings by the use of shoji panels as a window treatment. This note is repeated in the treasured oriental rugs combined with Italian and French stylings in the Boyle-Ahern residence, with its commanding view of the Bay and Oakland.

A champagne gala at the Ambinder home will climax the 1:30 to 4:30 o'clock event. Committee chairmen include Mesdames Frank Ademson, Peter Brajkovich, James Frush, Hiller, Kenneth Larson, William O'Dell and Sullivan. Mrs. O'Dell is ticket chairman.

THE BEAUTIFULLY carved furniture in the Melmon home is complemented by the golden accents of French antiques. Here, Mesdames Sullivan and Hiller make a note of the golden antique urn and chandelier with its thousands of cut crystal beads.

THE LIVING ROOM of the Ambinder home as seen from the entry is framed by a dividing planter. The two committee women are seated on gold silk oversized chairs. Many contemporary objects d'art are to be found in this room. Mrs. Hiller serves as vice president of the Greenbrae Acorns Guild and Mrs. Sullivan is chairman of hostesses for the tour.



THE TWO CONCLUDE their preview in the oriental garden of the James Hamilton home. The Japanese tea house is furnished with low chow tables and floor cushions. Sliding shoji walls control the breezes and sunlight. Of particular interest to tour-goers will be the collection of more than 100 crystal paperweights displayed on glass shelved picture windows at the Hamilton home. (Independent-Journal photos)

Booklet Details Wardrobe Need Of Newborn Infants

Mothers-to-be, have you ever wondered how many diapers, buntings, blankets and bibs you'll need, or what the bedtime fashions are for new babies?

So much is written on wardrobes for the expectant mother that sometimes baby is almost forgotten until his or her arrival, but now for a change a book has been written and illustrated strictly for baby on the latest fashions. "Fashions for Baby — With Hints for Mothers" was written by Dr. Elizabeth B. Hurlock, author of several baby books.

The book has clothes ideas for baby when he sleeps, and plays, or has to be spic and span to meet the world. One feature is a layette chart that details everything needed for baby's arrival and the recommended quantities of each. Another chart details baby's bath and feeding needs.

It also has helpful hints for his bath and bedtime and for decorating the nursery.

The book is especially good for friends and relatives who wonder what would make a nice gift for baby's wardrobe or accessories during the first year.

The book may be obtained free by writing Baby Book, Box 1718, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N.Y.

Travelers Will Be Honored By Harold Schuttes At Supper

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

The Harold Schuttes are entertaining at a cocktail party and buffet supper tomorrow night at their Ross Home. Honored will be a number of travelers, including the J. Benton Tulleys of Winship Park, who returned from a tour of Europe Sunday, the Leo Hubers of Oakland and J. Harold Magee of San Francisco. The latter has just returned from two months cruise aboard the Caronia. He sailed to islands of the South Pacific, to New Zealand and Australia.

The Hubers leave June 5 aboard a freighter for three months of travel. They'll go to Europe then to Africa for their annual safari. The Tulleys were away five weeks. They flew to Paris where they bought a French car, Citroen, drove through Burgundy, southern France, Switzerland and Italy as far south as Florence. They went back to Paris and shipped the car home. They flew to London then to Dublin and were a week traveling in Ireland.

Other guests of the Schuttes will be Dr. and Mrs. James Goebel, Messrs. and Mesdames Gus. Niederholzer, James Tufts, James Giovenetti of Marin, Miss Bettye Meares and Dwight Strong of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dalezeil of Oakland.

The Schuttes and the Tulleys went together Wednesday night to see Can-Can, starring Lilo, the new dinner-theater musical at the Sheraton-Palace. Also at the show were the Harrison McNear Leppos of Mill Valley, the Edward Hindleys of Kent Woodlands and the Arthur Dettners, who have an apartment in San Francisco, but will return in the summer to their beautiful home in Ross.

JACKIE MOOSE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Moose of Kentfield, will be a model at the fashion show at the Delta Phi Epsilon sorority luncheon tomorrow in the Venetian Room at the Fairmont Hotel. Jackie, a freshman at University of California, will join her sorority sisters in showing clothes for a "Summer in San Francisco." The styles will range from swim suits, flowered print dresses to autumn wools and winter furs to kill the chill of a summer evening in the Bay city. Lillian Moose is taking reservations for the luncheon and fashion show which begins at 12 m.

PLANS are being made for the entertainment of the Raymond Helbigs of Honolulu who arrive the first of June for a visit with his family. Their two children, Bill and Thea, will fly to join them after school is closed. The Helbigs will headquarter at the San Francisco home of his mother, Mrs. W. H. Helbig, and will go with her to the World's Fair in Seattle. However, they'll be a good part of the time with Ray's twin brother, Charles (Don) Helbig of Greenbrae and family and sister, Mrs. Frank E. Duhme Jr. of Tiburon and will go sailing in the Duhme's Triton. The Ray Helbigs have been entertaining Richard Egan, the movie star, and his wife during their stay in Hawaii. Ray and the movie star have been friends since school days.

LT. AND MRS. GEORGE E. FRANZMAN and daughter, Lori, arrived in San Rafael Tuesday. They drove here from Fort Eustis in Virginia, where Lieutenant Franzman finished his tour of duty with the Army. He served for the last two years in the Provost Marshal's office at Fort Eustis. The trio is staying at the Franzman family home on Forbes Avenue.

ABOUT THE MIDDLE OF June or the first of July Mr. and Mrs. C. David Callahan and their daughter, Christine, will move into their new contemporary style home now being completed. They have been living in San Anselmo. Christine will be close to her school as she is a sophomore at Marin Catholic.

College Prep Programs Squeeze Out The More Creative Courses

Do you have a child in high school? Can he take courses in art, literature or music and still graduate on time? Probably not. The creative subjects are being squeezed out, and I'm sorry.

When we were in high school we had some leeway. We took "elective courses" each semester. Several classes in literature, art and music were required of us. We had a chance to get acquainted with the finer things of life. Remember?

Not so now. Elective courses were the first casualities. Several years ago they were dropped from most college science and drill, and more homework were required. Next our leaders dropped the required art and music classes. Critics said they were frills, and a waste of time.

I disagree. Even under the present world conditions life is more than drudgery. Education has a place for music, poetry, great art, great books. The harder our high school youngsters work, the more their souls need to soar. They ought to have creative experiences. They need emotional release.

Mrs. Barbour and I have been helping our son plan his high school program. The only solution he can find is to go to summer school regularly. He won't be able to get a job in June and July. But if he goes to summer school he will be able to meet academic requirements easily. Then during the year he can play in the school band, or sing in the choir. He can take literature and art appreciation courses. High school will be more than a mental exercise for him.

We go to extremes in education. I hope we soon get over the idea that cultural subjects are unimportant. Don't you?

Television Viewing Improvements Told

Parental responsibilities on television viewing and the improvement of the medium were outlined by the program director of channel 5, Ray Hubbard of Ross in a talk to the Marin Motion Picture Council Tuesday.

Hubbard advised parents to exert control by using selective viewing for their children and sometimes firmly saying "no." Parents should remember, he said, that television shows after 11 p.m. are often aimed at adult viewing, while the daytime and early evening shows are supposed to be more suitable for family viewing.

Children must be guided in their television viewing just as in their reading, he said. Rather than allowing them to become gluttons, they should be taught discrimination by allowing wider viewing as the children get older while discussing why some shows are better than others.

Hubbard said that the Federal Communications Commission does not dictate how much public service is required by each broadcaster, but the broadcaster must make a statement as to how much public service it will present and then must live up to the standard it has set.

He said that the public is awakening to the wide range of usefulness of television and that television must be aware of the new demands. Television will continue to improve as long as people feel the need for it, Hubbard said. He pointed out that the broadcast of the John Glenn flight was presented because the public demanded it.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beadle, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kinsey, and Mrs. Laurence Symmes Jr.

Younger members compete in their classes throughout the year and a trophy is presented to a member of each group at the final parties. Cup winners for these classes are: Kentfield and San Rafael fifth and sixth graders: Steve McConnell, Jack Phillips, Michael Luchetti, Janet Pfeffer, Steve Porter, Michael Keelen; Kentfield and San Rafael seventh graders: Stephen Fenston, Jackie Bridges, Laurel Grover, Rodney Bleasdale; Mill Valley: Gary Graver; Novato fifth and sixth graders: Scott Wineland, Carol Craig; Hamilton Air Force Base: Billie Tweedie, Conrad Mattson.

Bedding Preferences Differ By Regions

NEW YORK (UPI)—It could be a reflection of Puritan durability, but Easterners like to sleep on hard beds. In the West and Midwest, the tendency is toward medium-firm mattresses, while Southerners apparently prefer to slumber on the softest of bedding. These are the findings of a nationwide survey of bedding preferences made by a mattress company.

'Town House' Plans Given Mill Valley

Plans for 250 low rent apartments, to be built by Oakland and Huntington Park developers on 17-acre Enchanted Knolls Point, have been submitted to the City of Mill Valley for review.

The plans, according to developer Sherrill Broudy of Oakland, include two and three-story "town house" apartments, mostly two-bedroom units, in addition to a large swimming pool and a community activity building. Offices and shops are also planned.

The Mill Valley City Council May 2 turned thumbs down on Broudy's plans for luxury apartments on the same site. The council stressed its wishes Mill Valley to remain essentially a single-family residential community.

Other developers, besides Broudy, are Eugene Harter and Warner Odenthal of Oakland and John Alexander of Huntington Park.

Fellowships Won

Two Tamalpais High School English teachers, Edward C. Bode and William V. Wallace, are among 45 Bay Area high school instructors awarded fellowships to the 1962 Summer Institute for Secondary Teachers of English June 25-Aug. 18 at Stanford University.

Interior Designer Gets Fellowship

Everett Brown of 88 Beach Road, Belvedere, color and design consultant, has been awarded a fellowship by the American Institute of Interior Designers in recognition of "outstanding contributions to the professional practices in the interior decorating and design field."

Brown maintains offices in San Francisco and New York.

Announcement of the honor was made at the national convention of the interior designers at the Seattle World's Fair.

'Finger Exercise' Explodes On Screen

By LES DARD

Here's a quick closeup at what's being offered on Marin move screens:

RAFAEL THEATER

"Five Finger Exercise" is an emotional domestic melodrama which tells how a mother's possessiveness almost destroys her family. It opens Sunday.

The picture is taken from the prize-winning play by Peter Shaffer, but its locale is moved from England to Oakland and Pebble Beach.

Rosalind Russell stars as the culture - conscious matron caught in a torrent of her own emotions. She is weary of her well-meaning but boorish businessman husband, Jack Hawkins. She dominates Richard Beymer, her Harvard son whose outlook on life has been softened by misguided preachings. Less a problem is a daughter, Annette Gorman.

The family's psychological tensions are ignited when the mother undertakes a fanciful flirtation with Maximillian Schell, the young and handsome German tutor of the daughter. Its discovery brings a near-tragedy which jolts the family onto the path of understanding.

An unusual film, with some excellent performances, notably those of Miss Russell and Hawkins.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" come thundering onto the screen tomorrow, in MGM's sumptuous remake of Vicente Flasco Ibanez' novel about World War I.

The first version made Rudolph Valentino famous in 1921. This time Hollywood has updated it to World War II and Nazi-occupied Paris, to relate the ravages of war upon a wealthy Argentine family of divided loyalties.

One part of the family is pro-Nazi, the other pro-French. Valentino's role is played by Glenn Ford, the painter-playboy-lover who chooses to remain neutral until shamed into joining the Resistance.

The fine cast includes Charles Boyer, Ingrid Thulin, Lee J. Cobb, Paul Lukas, Yvette Mimieux and Karl Boehm.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

An adult ghost story, "The Innocents," opens tonight starring Deborah Kerr. It's enough to tantalize even the most blase among you.

Based on Henry James' "Turn of the Screw," it tells of an English governess who finds her wards possessed of evil spirits, and sets out to wrest them away.

Co-featured is "Tender Is the Night," film version of the F. Scott Fitzgerald novel about wealthy American expatriates in Europe. Cast is headed by Jennifer Jones, Jason Robards Jr., Joan Fontaine and Tom Ewall.

MOTOR MOVIES

Opening tonight are a couple of excellent return films, "To Hell and Back" and "Lawless Breed."

The former, in Technicolor-CinemaScope, stars Audie Murphy as himself, re-enacting the war exploits that made him America's most-decorated foot soldier in World War II. If this were fiction, you might not believe it, but as real events, realistically handled, they make good watching.

"Lawless Breed" is a better-than-average Western starring Rock Hudson and Julia Adams. Technicolor.

NOVATO THEATER

"Moon Pilot" is Walt Disney's dig at the space race, his story of tht reluctant astronaut. It opens Sunday, a fine film for all the family.

Tom Tryon plays the terrified missle man chosen to orbit the moon. He claims even airplane travel makes him ill. On leave before countdown, he is followed by a mysterious beauty (Dany Saval, a French vicport) he thinks is a spy, but turns out to be an adorable creature from out of this world. She's anxious to take Tryon to her leader.

Also starred are Edmund O'Brien, Brian Keith. It's in beautiful color, with some very funny lines and a bright musical score.

Co-featured is "Wonders of Aladdin," starring Donald O'Connor and Noelle Adam. It's fun, too.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"State Fair" stays with us another week, the third and most lavish film version and the second enlivened by Rodgers and Hammerstein tunes like "It Might as Well Be Spring" and "It's a Grand Night for Singing," plus at least five new tunes.

Heading a big, bright cast are Pat Boone, Bobby Darin, Alice Faye (back, at last!), Pamela Tiffin, Tom Ewall, Wally Cox and a new beauty named Ann-Margaret you'll want to see much more of.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Purple Noon" is a French picture, filmed in Italy, about a young man who kills a rich chum and then tries to act out the friend's life. It doesn't work out too well, but the details hold plenty of thrills.

Starred is Alain Delon, the French James Dean, Maurice Ronet and the beautiful Marie Laforet.

The color-camery magnificence of scenes around Rome, Naples and Montebello are well worth the trip.

In its second week at the Fairfax.

LARK THEATER

"Carry On, Constable," carries on another week at the Lark. As usual, the British are spoofing themselves in this comedy about London's bobbies.

Not much plot here. Four rookies are taken onto the force, and proceed to make a shambles of law, order and the bobbies' vaunted efficiency.

Starred are Charles Hawtry, Leslie Phillips, Kenneth Connor and Kenneth Williams, with distaff assists from Hattie Jacques, Joan Sims, Joan Hickson and Shirley Easton.

DRAMATIC THUNDERBOLT—Maximillian Schell, recent winner of the Academy Award for best actor of the year, joins the inimitable Rosalind Russell in starring roles of "Five Fingered Exercise." The film tells the emotion-packed story of a culture-conscious mother's possessiveness and how, caught up in the torrent of her own turbulent feelings, tensions, ignited to unleash a near-tragedy that jolts the family onto the path of understanding. It opens Sunday at the Rafael Theater.

'Broadway Bash' Fun For All

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Broadway moves to Machin Avenue in Novato again tonight and tomorrow when the Fling section of Novato Community Club gives the last two performances of the "Broadway Bash" which leaves one with the impression that those on the stage are enjoying themselves as much as the audience.

The musical will be presented at 8:30 p.m. in the community building.

The fast-moving musical has very colorful costumes and the dance routines are good.

Particularly amusing is "Honey Bun" from "South Pacific," sung by Carol Martinucci and a chorus of hula dancers in the persons of Alex Sanches, Alex Consagra, Paul Terry, Ed Sanders, George McDaniel, Joe Jacob and Grant Nelson.

New to the Fling section this year are McDaniels and Terry, who perform a comical dance, "Too Darn Hot."

Bob Kone, who sings "They Call the Wind Marian," has an exceptionally fine voice. The audience showed their appreciation with a curtain call at the opening night performance.

Other outstanding performers are Jane Nichols, well known in Marin County for her adaptations of songs from Broadway hits, and Stacy Brennan, whose performance as "Queen of the Strip-tease" is most hilarious.

The finale is "Grant Avenue" from "Flower Drum Song." Special lyrics by Shari Leaf and Lee Young adapt the song to Grant Avenue in Novato.

Reservations for tables are being taken by Mrs. Robert Young for the final performances.

Sausalito Planners To Meet

The Sausalito Planning Commission will hold a special meeting next Wednesday for final review of the proposed new zoning ordinance.

Chairman Mel Wax said a public hearing is set for May 23 following which the commission hopes to send its recommendations on the ordinance to the city council.

The commission voted 7-0, Commissioner F. Bruce Bernhard abstaining, to recommend to the city council that a portion of the Perego, Harney and Teague, Inc. Buena Vista Heights subdivision be rezoned from duplex to apartments. This recommendation includes the stipulation that present duplex density must be maintained.

Reason for the stipulation, said Wax, is to provide more open spaces and a better circulation pattern in the development. The commission asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to rule on how the city's interest regarding the density requirement can be protected.
